Salem-Brosius Will Abandon Offices Here

91 Employees To Be Moved To Carnegie; Building For Sale

Salem - Brosius, Inc., is abandoning its Salem engineering plant and by the end of the year all 91 employees will be re-established at the company's principal plant and offices in Carnegie, Pa., it was announced today by Ward A. Wickwire, Jr., president of Salem Brosius.

The building here on lower South Broadway will be for sale, Frank Myers, vice president in charge of operations, said.

Wickwire and Myers expressed regret at the closing of the local plant but explained that the move is in keeping with Salem - Brosius' centralization program which is designed to increase efficiency and reduce production and administrative costs.

Allied to Steel Industry

Salem - Brosius is a leading manufacturer of equipment for the steel industry and all engineering work has been done here in what was formerly the offices of the Salem Engineering Co. Brosius purchased Salem Engineering from the late S. F. Keener in December of 1950.

Department heads were notified last night of the transfer move, Myers said, and letters went out today to all employees notifying them of the firm's decision to locate all of its facilities at Carnegie, near Pittsburgh.

Myers explained that the engineering offices here would be gradually abandoned over a period of several months and that those employees to be transferred will work temporarily in the George J. Hagan Co. building until a new Salem - Brosius office building is completed in Carnegie. Salem - Brosius also owns the Hagan Company, which designs and builds steel furnaces. The Hagan firm was acquired last February.

Salem - Brosius' acquisition of the manufacturing plant in Carnegie occurred May 8, 1953.

Myers, who joined the former Keener organization in 1935 as purchasing agent, said the transfer to Carnegie would be made on a department - by - department basis.

Mr. Wickwire said it was necessary for economy reasons to abandon the Salem office because the firm had made many friends in the area. "But in these days of stiff competition it is necessary that we keep our costs pared to the bone and we will realize substantial savings by integrating our administrative divisions," Wickwire said.

Girl Tells Of Role In Jail Escape Try

LISBON — "I was talked into it," a 17-year-old East Liverpool girl told Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin Monday, to explain the smuggling of three hacksaw blades to her boyfriend at Mahoning County jail last month.

The girl, who admitted she took the blades to Alfred Tucker of Bloomfield, was lectured by the judge, then placed in the custody of out-of-town relatives with the consent of the parents.

Her account of the attempt to free her 19-year-old friend remain unaltered from her original confession to Deputy Sheriff Al Hartman earlier, but she added that Tucker persuaded her to bring him the escape tools while on one of her visits.

Tucker has been sentenced to the Ohio State Penitentiary for 1 - 15 years for burglarizing an East Liverpool gun store.

Mendes-France of success in the National Assembly's confidence vote today on the London agreement to rearm West Germany.

The Premier demanded endorsement of the general principles of the nine-nation accord which would put arms again in the hands of 500,000 German troops, this time for Western defense.

The Socialist party's National executive Council made approval almost a certainty late last night when members voted to authorize the 104 Socialist deputies in Parliament to support Mendes-France. There was no opposition and only four abstentions.

Well Above Majority

The Socialist votes, added to those of the Premier's own Radical Socialist (moderate) party and other center factions, are expected to push Mendes-France's total well above the 314 required for a majority in the 627-seat Assembly.

Virtually all Socialist deputies are expected to obey their council's order, although nearly half of them disregarded a similar dictate by opposing the defunct European Defense Communist Treaty. The executive's resolution said Mendes-France had promised to seek Socialist-desired safeguards against a rebirth of German militarism.

There have been increasing signs of a move to bring the Socialists into Mendes-France's coalition government. The Premier has expressed the desire for the party's support and had made efforts to meet its position on both international and domestic affairs.

Staked Regime In Vote

Mendes-France staked the life of his government on the confidence vote. Failure to gain a majority would mean his immediate resignation and possibly new national elections. Success would give him a solid mandate to continue negotiations with the other Western Powers later this month when the nine foreign ministers meet here to fill in details of the London accords.

The Premier still can encounter rough seas when he submits a final treaty text for ratification by the Assembly, possibly before the end of the year.

'Hazel' Roars Across Haiti Toward Cuba

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Hurricane Hazel thrashed across the western tip of the Republic of Haiti today and spun northward toward the populous eastern end of Cuba, site of the U. S. Naval Base at Guantanamo Bay.

Winds were approaching gale force over eastern Cuba at 8 a. m. EST and the Miami Weather Bureau predicted that in a few hours that region would get a full hurricane blow with gusts up to 115 miles an hour.

Cuba's high mountains were expected to give partial protection to the area which includes such important towns as Guantanamo and Santiago de Cuba.

The Navy ordered all its civilian personnel to evacuate the Guantanamo Base, which sets off the underside of the eastern tip of Cuba. This is the largest U. S. Navy Base in the Caribbean.

Port Au Prince, capital of Haiti, escaped with 25 m. p. h. winds as the hurricane "eye" crossed the western end of the peninsula jutting out toward Cuba and Jamaica. That point is about 125 miles from the capital.

No reports have been received here of the extent of damage on

East Liverpool Man Jailed For Shooting

LISBON — Leo Garvey of East Liverpool was sentenced to six months in Mahoning County jail at Youngstown and fined $200 Monday for unlawfully wounding his wife.

Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp suspended the fine and three months of the jail term when Garvey appeared for a hearing on the probation violation.

Garvey was charged with shooting his wife Hazel in the hip with a .22 caliber pistol.

He was placed on probation last January, but left the area without informing Probation Officer Richard Rose.

Parker Named C. C. President

Ralston To Talk At Annual Dinner Nov. 15

Officers were elected and plans made for the annual meeting on Monday, Nov. 15, when the Salem Chamber of Commerce met yesterday noon at the Lape Hotel.

Al Parker, head of Parker Chevrolet, was named president to succeed Hobart Butcher, effective Jan. 1.

Other officers are: Vice president, A. G. Tame; second vice president, Floyd W. McKee. Harold Musser and Howard Firestone join Walter Deming and W. Eugene Young on the board of directors.

E. M. Stephenson has been named general chairman for the Chamber's annual banquet which will be held the evening of Nov. 15 in the Masonic Temple, with Cameron Ralston, of Utica, N.Y., as principal speaker.

Ralston, a lecturer who is known as "the common sense philosopher," will speak on the topic, "The Five Plagues of Democracy."

The speaker, a native of Scotland where he received his education, has been on the faculty of Washington & Jefferson College and is a former director of Public Forums, U. S. Department of Interior, Office of Education.

He is the founder of youth guidance week and former secretary of the "Chicago Committee of 100." Ralston, who was in defense work during World War II, is active in veterans affairs.

3 Indicted Change Pleas To Guilty

LISBON — Edward T. Homan, 30, of RD 2, Lisbon, was granted five years probation by Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp, Monday and three other men indicted by the September grand jury, changed their pleas to guilty, and requested probation.

Homan, accused of discharging firearms at his 22-year-old wife, Alberta last August, was placed on probation without an investigation by Probate Officer Richard Rose, because he is charged with a misdemeanor rather than a felony.

Homan pleaded guilty to shooting his wife in the hand with a .22 caliber rifle.

Vincent Ferlaino of East Liverpool and Lawrence Call and James Cantwell, both of Hammondsville, reversed their pleas to guilty.

Ferlaino is charged with the attempted burglary of the McCallister Dairy store in Wellsville, last May. He was indicted along with Ralph Newitz of Midland, who has pleaded not guilty.

The two Jefferson County men are charged with stealing goods from Panckake's Service Station and grocery near Negley, in July.

Lawrence's brother, Joe, is being returned from California by Sheriff Howard Clark for arraignment.

Woman Chosen First 'Courteous Driver'

Monday's "Courteous Driver of the Day," Evelyn Gleckler of 1361 Ridgewood Drive, will be awarded a citation at the Oct. 25 meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club, which is sponsoring the campaign on courteous driving this week.

Patrolman Ray Hiltbrand, who was following the driver on State St., said she observed all the traffic rules and lights, kept a safe distance between cars, stopped to permit a car to park and gave up her right of way to allow a truck to make a turn, thus practicing safe-driving as well as courteous-driving.

300 Convicts End Riot At Dakota Prison

To Free Guards Held Hostage If Mayor Will Head Probe

SIOUX FALLS, S. D. (AP)—Three hundred rioting prisoners at the South Dakota State Penitentiary agreed today to return to their cells and release three guards held as hostages if Mayor Fay Wheelodon of Sioux Falls would head an impartial investigating committee.

Mayor Wheelodon said he would accept the responsibility "if they will let me do it."

He went into an immediate conference with Warden G. Norton Jameson, saying he would give the prisoners his answer after talking with the warden.

As an evidence of their good faith, the inmates released one of the three guards, Melvin DeYoung. "We are turning this guard loose so you can see he is all right and he can tell you the others are all right," said Floyd Lindbergh, a life term prisoner who acted as spokesman for the prisoners.

Held Awaiting Reply

He said the other two guards, George Reid and E. F. Lambertson, would be held until Mayor Wheelodon makes his reply.

The prisoners, in conference with the warden and the Rev. Maurice Wessman, presented a long list of suggestions, but made only one demand—for an impartial investigation of prison conditions.

The riot exploded shortly before 6 p.m. last night in the dining room just as the prisoners were finishing their evening meal.

Six convicts were hospitalized after the rioting started. None was in serious condition and four were released.

By midnight, most of the shouting and window smashing had quieted down.

Two state Republican officials said accusations concerning the prison by a Democratic candidate for attorney general figured as a cause of the outbreak. However, the candidate and a spokesman for the rioting prisoners said the cause was conditions within the prison.

Warden G. Norton Jameson met late last night with a convict committee. The three committeemen said they wanted to go back "and do a lot of talking" with the prisoners before meeting for a second time with the warden.

The prisoners promised not to hurt the three hostages — George Reid, E. F. Lambertson and Melvin DeYoung. The hostages sent out notes saying, "We are okay. Tell our families."

Gov. Sigurd Anderson called out 120 National Guardsmen to relieve local and state police brought in for extra duty.

The rioting broke out in the mess

S. African Premier To Retire Nov. 30

PRETORIA, South Africa (AP)—Prime Minister Daniel F. Malan, grim-faced, rock-ribbed fighter for white supremacy and racial segregation in the Union of South Africa, dramatically announced to his cabinet last night that he would retire from office Nov. 30.

The leader of South Africa's Dutch-descended Boer population summoned his official family to the Prime Minister's residence here and told them his decision is irrevocable.

He said he also would give up his seat in Parliament from Pikitberg and retire to his home at Stellenbosch, in Cape Province.

Announcements of his decision did not give any reason for the retirement. He was 80 last May 22.

Wilson Stirs Protest With Remarks On Unemployment

DETROIT (AP)—Secretary of Defense Wilson was the center of a storm of protest today over his remarks at a press conference in answer to questions on the nation's unemployment in labor distressed areas.

Wilson told newsmen yesterday that while he had "a lot of sympathy for people where a sudden change (unemployment) catches 'em. . . we've always liked bird dogs better than kennel-fed dogs. You know, one who will get out and hunt for food rather than sit on his fanny and yell."

He made that comment in telling of a conference last year with a group which said its community's labor surplus would be increased by 110 young men because of a cutback in draft calls.

Russians Yield On A-Bomb Ban

U. S. To Air Views On Disarmament Today

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The United States prepared to air its views on disarmament today in the wake of Russian demands that the Western Powers match Kremlin "concessions" on the controversial arms question.

U. S. Delegate James J. Wadsworth was slated to lead off today's debate in the U.N.'s 60-nation Political Committee with a half-hour speech spelling out the general American position on disarmament.

Wadsworth indicated he would have little comment on Andrei Vishinsky's two-hour speech yesterday in which the Russian again yielded ground on the old Soviet demand for an immediate ban on atomic weapons.

Observers noted, however, that while the Russian delegate answered a number of points raised by Britain's Selwyn Lloyd and France's Jules Moch, he carefully steered clear of the key question: Will Russia agree to on-the-spot inspection of her arsenals?

Vishinsky made the following main points:

1. Instead of an immediate ban on nuclear weapons, the disarmament program can start with reduction of conventional arms and armed forces. The prohibition of atomic and hydrogen bombs can come in the second phase, after a control organ has been set up.

2. The control organ must not have power to close plants in any country. Such authority must—in accordance with the U.N. Charter—rest with the Security Council.

3. The Russians accept the British-French disarmament recom-

Teams Attend Rally; Urged To Attain Goal

$45,810 Quota Will Benefit 10 Agencies; 1st Report Thursday

Community Chest team workers began their initial efforts today to raise Salem's $45,810 quota for 10 "red feather" agencies, following a "kick-off" dinner meeting of all Chest workers Monday night in the Memorial Building.

The funds will benefit the 10 local agencies, plus the United Defense Fund.

Rev. Harold Deitch, new minister at the First Christian Church, who spoke at the meeting, declared that the Chest campaign will be a success "if everyone joins hands and hearts."

He pointed out that it is "our obligation to support the Community Chest just as we support our country and that we owe a certain responsibility to the local agencies which help people who are less fortunate."

George Emery of the Deming Company, who is general campaign chairman, called for "good hunting" on the part of Chest team workers and he praised the faithful solicitors who do such a good job year after year.

Instructions to team captains and their canvassers were given by Walter B. Null, co-chairman.

Al G. Tame, president of the Community Chest Association, presided.

Territories Are Assigned

Chest team workers will cover their assigned territories until Saturday noon, after which everything is open territory. "One hundred per cent" cards will be awarded to all shops, stores or offices where all employees contribute to the Chest.

First reports should be made no later than Thursday, it was stressed by Chairman Emery.

The general committee team is headed by T. E. Miller, Milton Steinger is chairman in charge of industry solicitation and Miss Ruth Ellen Stamp is captain of the large group of women from the various city organizations which comprise the residential canvassing team.

How Funds Are Shared

The Community Chest funds will be divided among the participating agencies as follows:

Catholic Charities	$ 1,940
Central Clinic	4,000.
Boy Scouts	3,900.
Girl Scouts	2,700.
Home for Aged Women	1,650.
Memorial Building	11,000.

Proceeds Of '55 Sesqui To Go For Project

COLUMBIANA — Purchase of a home for the Historical Society of Columbiana and Fairfield Township with provision for a museum in connection, is planned for proceeds that may be derived from the sesquicentennial celebration in Columbiana the week of July 24, next year.

The society has already assembled an interesting collection relating to local history and mementos of pioneer life.

A plaque is planned for the celebration, with Mrs. Evan Roller as chairman of the committee, which includes Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Michaud, Mrs. Virginia Felger, Miss Estella Esterly and Mrs. Jean Weaver.

The committee will prepare a historical pageant to be presented during the celebration. A professional director will be engaged for the rehearsals.

The finance committee, Edwin Dillan and Willard Ferrall, will have meeting sometime this week, with Harry Eberhardt, chairman, and Allan White and Evan Roller, co-chairman, of the general sesqui committee, to consider further financial details.

Democrats Hold Columbiana Rally
COLUMBIANA — Speeches by candidates for office and arrangements for the coming election were highlights of a meeting held in the Democratic headquarters here Monday night for Columbiana, Lisbon and Leetonia committeemen and the public.

A. R. Wood, candidate for county commissioner, stressed more employment as the most important item toward progress in Columbiana County.

Candidate for state representative, Donald Burcham, discussed the advantages and disadvantages of the axle mile tax and new unemployment bills coming up in the state legislation this year.

Almon Marshall, candidate for county auditor, stated that he is campaigning for a tax collection on time.

Miss Hilda Mudd, secretary to Congressman Wayne L. Hayes, stated, "Congressman Hayes is running on his voting record which people in the 18th district know. He has always been interested in the welfare of the farmer, laborer, veteran, businessman and retired people."

Miss Mudd also said, "Congressman Hayes spends more hours at his desk and on the floor of the House than any other congressman."

Chicago Cleans Up After Flood Waters Fall

CHICAGO — There was a speedup in cleanup operations today from the city's worst rainstorm of the century and the flood crisis appeared diminishing.

No heavy rains were forecast today after a weekend of torrential rains measuring nearly seven inches. But much of the city's business and industrial activities were curtailed.

Damage from the floods, which drove thousands from their homes in the city and suburbs, was estimated at 15 million dollars.

An estimated 100,000 persons were made idle yesterday as a result of the flood. Power plants which were knocked out virtually halted operations at nearly a score of big industrial plants.

Other thousands were kept from jobs by damage to business buildings and factories, flooded homes and transportation problems. Payroll losses added to the property damage.

Although Chicago's flood threat appeared easing, a critical flood danger continued in nearby northern Indiana communities. Heavy rain fell in the Hammond area during the night and hundreds of persons were driven from their homes by the flooding Little Calumet River.

About 1,000 families already have been evacuated from sections of South Hammond, Highland, Munster and Whiting.

National Guardsmen were moved into the flood-stricken area after Mayor Vernon Anderson declared a state of emergency in Hammond.

The Red Cross said floodwaters extended over some 700 homes in South Hammond and 150 in both Munster and Highland.

The waters also extended over a wide area to the west and south of Chicago, with southwestern suburban areas hardest hit.

Four deaths were attributed to the floodwaters in Chicago. Two men were found dead in flooded basements, a third was electrocuted while operating an electric drill in a partially flooded basement and a 20-year-old youth drowned last night in a creek in suburban Oak Lawn.

Official Tells Of Reasons For Follansbee Sale

WELLSBURG, W. Va. — The president of Follansbee Steel Corp. testified today at an injunction hearing that "material changes in economics" of the steel business prompted him to accept an offer to sell the company.

Marcus A. Follansbee was called as a witness at the hearing for an injunction to halt sale of the firm to Frederick W. Richmond of New York for nine million dollars.

Six minority shareholders of the steel firm have asked the Brooke County (W. Va.) Circuit Court to block the sale. They claim the physical assets of the company are being sold below fair value.

President Follansbee testified that Richmond approached him last June and offered to buy the steel company by paying $20 a share for stock which was selling on the New York Stock Exchange for $11 a share. Follansbee said he turned the offer down.

Later, Follansbee said, Richmond again met with him in the company's Pittsburgh office and submitted the nine-million-dollar offer.

Follansbee said he changed his mind about not selling because "the economic climate changed materially about that time."

Sale of the steel firm to Richmond still must be approved by a majority of the company's stockholders. They are scheduled to meet Oct. 27.

The objecting shareholders all are residents of Follansbee, W. Va., where the firm's biggest plant is located. The individual shareholders admit they are fighting to keep the plant operating in their hometown.

Richmond has said he will sell the plant machinery to Republic Steel Corp. which plans to move it to Gadsden, Ala., where Republic operates a plant.

Ohio Farmer To Explain New Farm Law

COLUMBUS, Ohio — An Ohio farmer, now an Eisenhower administration agriculture executive, is back in Ohio today for three weeks of conferences with farm leaders.

He is Clay H. Stackhouse who operates a 875-acre popcorn farm at Wakeman, Huron County.

Stackhouse said he came here to explain the farm law which took effect in September and to clear up "misconceptions" about the administration's farm program.

He is assistant deputy administrator for production adjustment in the Commodity Stabilization Service. He took that post last January after having served on the state board of agriculture for years.

The Commodity Stabilization Service operates the local bodies which administer acreage control, price support activities and conservation programs.

Stackhouse said rumblings of discontent about the program had been reported from various Ohio counties and said "the stories are aimed at the party now in power."

One complaint, he said, had been that the government was making it hard for farmers to get loans on wheat. He denied the report saying: "We are doing everything we can to make things as easy as possible for the farmer. We are not trying to clamp down on him."

He said the government had made total loans of $76,543,880 on major crops in Ohio this year, loans "that have stabilized the prices of major commodities."

He said new storage facilities in Ohio were a "safety valve" which enabled Ohio to handle its big grain crops of the last two years.

He also said the "tone" of the agriculture conservation program had been changed for the better. Now, he said, money is being used to "buy all the conservation practices possible," where before it was used "to see how many participants could be gotten into the program."

Paying Alimony Easy For Indian Giver

BALTIMORE — Paying $75 weekly alimony really wasn't as expensive as it sounds for Albert W. Foll, his wife told the judge.

He would pay the money to the Probation Department and wait until she cashed the department's check. Then he would take the cash away from her to make the next week's payment, Mrs. Anna Foll testified yesterday. The Folls are legally separated.

Foll, 43-year-old steel construction worker with six previous convictions of assaulting his wife, was up in Criminal Court on a similar charge. Mrs. Foll said he beat her again Sept. 28 after he was notified by probation officials to discuss his falling $1,100 behind in alimony payments.

"I love my wife very much and if I hit her I'm sorry," Foll told Judge Michael J. Manley.

The judge sentenced him to one year on assault charge and deferred sentence on another charge of violating probation on the alimony deal.

Ohio Polio Cases Up 175 Over Last Week

COLUMBUS, Ohio — The number of polio cases in Ohio for the year to date increased to 1,849 with the addition of 175 new cases last week, Dr. Ralph Dwork, acting state health director, announced today.

There were 94 new cases for the corresponding week last year, bringing the total to 2,225 for the corresponding portion of 1953.

Corn, Wheat Crops Down Over 1953

WASHINGTON — This year's drought-affected corn crop yesterday was estimated at 2,949,643,000 bushels by the agriculture department. It estimated the wheat crop at 859,280,000 bushels and the barley tobacco crop at 56 million pounds.

Both drought and government planting restrictions served to cut the indicated production of wheat and corn below that of last year. The 1953 corn crop was 3,176,615,000 bushels; wheat was 1,168,536,000 bushels.

The 10-year average (1943-1952) for corn was 3,057,464,000 bushels while wheat was 1,121,506,000.

The department estimated the total tobacco crop at 2,153,000,000 pounds, down one half per cent from the estimate a month ago. The 1953 tobacco crop totaled 2,057,000,000 pounds.

Estimated barley production in Ohio was 19,520,000 pounds compared to 17,920,000 last year. Other Ohio tobacco production was types 42-44 in the Miami Valley totaling 7,680,000 pounds compared to 6,110,000 pounds in 1953.

Blythin To Hear Dr. Sheppard Case

CLEVELAND — Judge Edward Blythin will preside at the first degree murder trial of Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard, scheduled to begin next Monday.

The three common pleas judges in criminal court take turns hearing first degree murder trials, and the Sheppard case falls to Judge Blythin. He announced yesterday he had accepted it.

Defense lawyers plan to file a motion Thursday for a change of venue. They contend public opinion in Cuyahoga County is too biased to ensure Sheppard of a fair trial. Judge Blythin, who recently turned down a motion to have Sheppard released on bail, would have to rule on any request for a change of venue.

Sheppard, a 30-year-old osteopath from suburban Bay Village, is accused of clubbing his pregnant wife to death in their home last July 4. He insists an intruder killed his wife and also beat him up.

$10 Fine Decides Man Not To Help Troubled

BALTIMORE — James Harris told Police Magistrate Howard L. Aaron that the days when he lent a helping hand to folks in trouble have ended. "I can't afford it."

The 45-year-old Negro truck driver was fined $10 by Aaron yesterday after Patrolman Milton Freund said he insisted on standing in the street and refused an order to get on the sidewalk at the scene of an accident. Harris said: "I saw the accident. There was a woman in the car with a baby and she looked befuddled. I was trying to help."

"I've always liked to help people," he said. "Now, coming down here today I saw a car stalled. Nine out of ten times I would have pushed. But not today."

Liquids spilled on waxed floors will cause white spots if not wiped up immediately.

Leetonia

St. Patrick Mothers To Meet Thursday

LEETONIA — The regular meeting of the St. Patrick School Mothers Club has been changed to Thursday evening to avoid conflict with the Leetonia - Columbiana football game to be held at Columbiana.

President Mrs. Frank Gabriel has announced that projects for the coming year will be discussed and she has asked for a full representation of the membership at this meeting. Refreshment will be served by the eighth grade mothers.

The newly organized Leetonia Band Mothers Club will meet in the High School Cafeteria at 7:45 this evening. Election of officers for the new group will feature the business meeting and plans for assisting with the annual band tag days Oct. 22 and 23 will be discussed. Mothers of all junior and senior band members are urged to be present.

MEMBERS of Leetonia Chapter O.E.S. will be guests of Negley Order of Eastern Stars Thursday evening to help that chapter celebrate friendship night. Any member wishing transportation should call Mrs. Elsie Kelly.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Miller of Niles and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Robson of East Palestine were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Gotthardt.

The first meeting of the Thursday Reading Club, following summer recess, was held last Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. L. E. Fisher. Mrs. F. G. Spatholt and Mrs. D. D. Rummel were speakers. Roll call was answered by travel tips.

Misses Barbara and Amelia Weidmayer have returned home from a visit with their niece, Mrs. Kathryn Brooks and relatives in New Castle, Pa.

Mrs. Rosa Cox has entered Salem City Hospital for surgery. D. Wallace Rebekah Lodge will sponsor a benefit card party at their hall Thursday evening. Lunch will be served by the committee.

Never Learn To Drive

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—There are few greater pleasures in life than motoring—particularly if you don't know how to drive a car yourself.

I never have learned to operate an automobile and now, in my mid-forties, I have decided to spend the rest of my life as a machine age parasite — and have no intention of learning to drive a car.

My attitude isn't based on any hope that the horse will stage a comeback as America's most popular vehicle. I never learned to ride a horse for the same reasons I never learned to drive a car—I never felt sure I could keep either one on the road very long.

Various Reasons Advanced
People always seem startled when they meet a grownup man who admits he can't or won't drive a car. For some reason they don't get mildly indignant. They tend to put you down either as an idiot or perhaps a secret conspirator against the American way of life.

Actually there are hundreds of thousands of adults today who don't drive a car. Some don't because they dislike machinery. Some don't because they have chauffeurs to do it for them. This is the class I'm trying to join. And some, like a number of airplane pilots, simply are afraid of automobiles.

Historically speaking, of course, most of the great men of the human race never learned to drive automobiles — such as Julius Caesar, Napoleon, Galileo, Abraham Lincoln, or, I suspect, even Albert Einstein, who has done as much as any man to unlock the secrets of the universe.

Often a Nuisance
A car is an urgent necessity today in most parts of America, and is becoming increasingly so. But if you dwell in the heart of a big city, as I do, an automobile can become a financial and nerve-racking nuisance.

It costs more to feed, water, oil, and bed down a car in crowded Manhattan than it does a baby, and I'd simply rather have the baby.

I find it cheaper to use any number of taxi cabs than to support a car of my own in the style it demands. When I come home in a cab, and pay the driver, I'm through with the problem of transportation. I don't have to have my wife come out and throw sandwiches to me to keep from starving while I circle the block looking for a parking place.

On motoring trips with a friend I don't get all tense and upset because he's doing the steering and I am not. Most drivers are that way — they can't relax unless they are at the wheel themselves.

Doesn't Miss Scenery
When you don't know how to drive, your ignorance can be quite blissful and refreshing. You are free to enjoy the beautiful scenery, and your friend is free to enjoy that fine view of the white line painted down the middle of the highway.

This makes me sound like a selfish opportunist. And perhaps I am. But it works two ways. Most motorists seem to get real pleasure out of driving, and some like to have someone like me along because it gives them a feeling of superiority.

"Can't understand a guy like you," they say. "You don't know what you're missing."
Whatever I'm missing, it sure isn't the scenery.

Woman Runs Aquatic Race Against Stork

CHICAGO (AP)—Mrs. Marie Obeney, 36, ran an aquatic race with the stork during the height of the flood.

Her husband Edward, a volunteer fire captain in suburban Alsip, was on flood duty. Coast Guardsmen took her by boat to a truck that carried her to an ambulance waiting on a nearby highway.

About nine hours later she gave birth to an 8-pound, 7-ounce baby boy in a suburban Blue Island hospital.

Technically, a goose is a female, the male being the gander.

CHICAGO FLOOD TAKES HEAVY TOLL—A residential community on the far South Side of Chicago, Ill., is badly flooded as continuing rains sent the Chicago River pouring into that city and suburbs. Damage in Chicago alone is estimated at $10,000,000, and at least 20 are dead.

Not A Man Will Walk

New 12-Division German Army To Be Mobile For Atom War

BONN, Germany (AP)—The new 12-division German army is being designed for atomic war.

It will be highly mobile—not a man will walk. It's smallest units will be able to function for days if cut off from supply columns.

These are important factors in the atom age. This year's Allied maneuvers showed an army has to be able to move quickly and disperse widely in small packets. It must not provide tempting targets for costly atomic weapons. This means a high degree of independence from unwieldy supply columns.

West German Defense Commissioner Theodor Blank and his advisers were attentive observers at the Allied maneuvers. They have drawn also on the Wehrmacht's experience in Russia in World War II and lessons learned in Korea.

The West German defense force approved in London by the nine-power conference will be 500,000 strong — 400,000 army, 80,000 air force and 20,000 navy.

Each of four armored divisions will land twice as many tanks as a Panzer division of World War II, organized into four tank battalions and an armored reconnaissance battalion. In addition there will be four motorized infantry battalions. There will be three combat group staffs and the usual field and anti-aircraft artillery, engineers, field workshops and medical units. Strength will be about 12,600 men.

Integration Case Goes To Court

NAAWP Mobs To Be Present At Hearing

GEORGETOWN, Del. The question of admitting Negro pupils to previously all-white Milford High School moves into court today with a large crowd of anti-integrationists expected to be on hand.

The state chancellor is scheduled to hear an appeal by the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People to reinstate 11 Negro students who were forced from the school by actions of the National Assn. for the Advancement of White People and other anti-integrationists.

At a NAAWP meeting last night in Lincoln, nearly everyone raised his hand when asked by State President Joseph M. Dames if they would be on hand for today's argument. The crowd was estimated at 6,000.

Meanwhile, Bryant Bowles, national president of the NAAWP, arranged to meet today with State Atty. Gen. H. Albert Young, who subpoenaed NAAWP records Friday. Young said yesterday that Bowles had asked in a telephone conversation for a delay and had agreed to meet with him here today.

Bowles said earlier he would turn over the records to a court but not to Young because the attorney general "is not a court." Later he said his attorney was studying the matter.

The 11 Negro pupils had been integrated, apparently successfully, into the Milford High School at the beginning of the fall term. The integration followed a U. S. Supreme Court ruling against segregated public schools.

Bowles and other members of the NAAWP eventually spoke and against the integrated school. Boycotting followed and the attendance in the high school dropped to a third of normal. The Milford School Board resigned and a new board ordered the Negro students returned to an all-Negro school in Dover, 18 miles from Milford, a community of 5,700 in southeastern Delaware.

Bowles is free under $6,000 bond on charges he conspired to break the state compulsory education law by leading the boycott.

Also facing Bowles and the NAAWP is an injunction sought by Young to prevent the organization from collecting dues or soliciting new members. That will be argued Oct. 22.

Hays Raps Campaign Visit Into District

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Wayne Hays (D-Ohio) today protested what he said was a report that an agriculture department official will tour his district in behalf of his political opponent.

Hays, in a letter to Secretary of Agriculture Benson, said his opponent, Republican Walter Hunston, reported in a press release last week that a high department official would tour Hays' district Oct. 21-23.

"You may be certain," Hays wrote to the secretary, "that when I am returned to the 84th Congress this obvious violation of the Hatch Act will be thoroughly investigated."

"The farmers of the nation have suffered enough at your hands without having their tax money to support a candidate in a political campaign," Hays added.

"I can understand your interest in replacing me, a working farmer, with my opponent, who knows nothing about the farmers' problems, and therefore could make no intelligent appraisal of your approach to the program."

Youth, Stole More Cars Than He Remembers

BALTIMORE (AP)—A 19-year-old youth who told police he stole so many cars he couldn't remember what he had done with all of them pleaded guilty to car theft yesterday.

William Henry Ash was sentenced to not more than nine years in prison.

He said he usually drove the cars until they ran out of gas and then abandoned them. Prosecutor M. Peter Moser said police had been able to connect Ash with nine thefts of cars or articles taken from stolen cars, including a set of false teeth.

Some of the articles were found in Ash's home where he had them displayed for sale, Moser said.

U. N. Asks Reds Hunt For Lost War Dead

MUNSAN, Korea (AP)—The United Nations command asked the Communists today to make a further search for approximately 70 Allied war dead unaccounted for in last month's body exchange.

Col. W. C. Sanders, senior U. N. graves registration officer, told the Reds at Panmunjom that U. N. records indicate 288 bodies buried in seven U. N. established cemeteries in North Korea, have not been accounted for.

He also requested a further search of 318 North Korean locations for approximately 40 Allied airmen killed in crashes during the war.

Sanders informed the Reds today's delivery of 125 bodies completes the return of Communist war dead unless additional bodies are discovered. The Allies returned 13,528 Communist bodies in the daily deliveries.

Altogether, the Reds returned 4,023 Allied dead—1,869 Americans, 608 South Koreans, 11 Britons, 26 Australians, one Turk and 1,468 of unknown nationality.

The Allied remains are now at the U. S. Army graves registration laboratory at Kokura, Japan, where efforts are being made for positive identification.

Siamese Twins Separated, 1 Dies

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—Five-month-old Claudette Miller rested quietly in her crib today. Her Siamese twin sister Constance died last night, a few hours after separation surgery.

The twins, joined at the forehead, stood the operation nicely and doctors said, barring complications, both were expected to live. But Constance went into shock and never came out of it.

The March of Dimes

The emergency March of Dimes drive is ended and, as usual, Salem citizens have responded generously.

The county total was $5,018. Salem came through with $3,450.52 of that amount.

City Chairman Howard Firestone and Bryce Kendall and County Co-Chairman John C. Litty are deeply grateful to all those who helped raise the needed funds to combat polio. Adults and children alike responded. Civic, fraternal, labor organizations and churches pitched in. The local united effort put the southern end of the county to shame.

The March of Dimes has no better backers than the people right here in Salem.

Telephone Instinct

Many human beings who talk on the telephone could learn something from an example set by a six-month-old boxer puppy.

A recent news story related how the puppy, Mugs, while locked up in a shop knocked the receiver off the hook and whimpered until an operator summoned a constable, who rescued the lonesome and frightened pup.

First of all, the animal did not tie up the line with unlimited chatter. It did not blast the operator out of her chair by loud barking. A well-modulated whimper was well-suited for getting across the message.

One fault, which the telephone company would not appreciate is that Mugs left the line open. But the constable even took care of that.

Justice Jackson

President Eisenhower will have to choose carefully to replace the qualities that had made the late Justice Robert J. Jackson a valuable member of the U.S. Supreme Court.

Yet, when he was appointed in 1941, a prominent senator said Jackson lacked the character, philosophy and judicial temperament to sit on the highest bench. Perhaps the senator was right, at the time. Perhaps Jackson was one of the many associate justices of the Supreme Court who rose to the occasion.

He acquired a reputation for leaning toward the conservative point of view, although as U.S. attorney general he had seemed inclined to lean in the opposite direction. But he never became over-cautious.

He erupted with criticism against at least two other members of the Supreme Court when he took exception to their behavior. And when he took a leave of absence to be chief U.S. prosecutor in the Nuremberg trials in 1946, he embraced a rising new concept of international law that infuriates legalists.

It is the concept that men who start a war of aggression are international criminals who must be held accountable for their misdeeds, especially if their crime against humanity has been compounded by brutality.

The strict legalists argued then and argue now that war is not murder on a mass scale when used as an instrument of national policy; that there can be no such thing as a war criminal, therefore, and that no one can be held accountable for death, destruction and atrocities.

It is possible that Justice Jackson's strongest bid for remembrance will be his willingness to accept moral law as a code for international justice before legalists had found a way to set up international laws.

More Than Frost In Brazil

The Federal Trade Commission's belated finding of unlawful action in the coffee trade comes at the end of a long investigation.

What the investigation seems to have revealed is that unseasonable frost in Brazil in the 1953 season did hurt the coffee crop, but the real cause of the unprecedented rise in coffee prices in the United States was of homegrown origin. The FTC complaint names the New York Coffee and Sugar Exchange and the New York Coffee and Sugar Clearing Assn.

There was more than the ordinary law of supply and demand at work, in other words. There was the equally well known law that says people will try anything they can get away with — and if they do get away with it they will try it again.

In the old days, commodities were manipulated systematically to force prices up and sometimes down. Speculators dreamed of "getting a corner" on commodities, to force prices out of sight and make a killing. But since all killings had to be made at the expense of commodity users, the users demanded government protection against manipulation.

The Federal Trade Commission is the FBI of the commodities exchanges. It has just finished doing its duty on the background of the circumstances that forced the price of coffee to unprecedented heights. There was more to it than frost in Brazil. The heat was on in New York, says FTC.

Scandals Rage While Senators Debate Etiquette

The most sensational security scandal the United States government has encountered since Klaus Fuchs stole the secret of the atom bomb for Russia has just been uncovered in the arrest by the FBI of Joseph S. Petersen Jr., professor of physics and mathematics, employed for the last 13 years in the National Security Agency.

This agency — which is not to be confused with the National Security Council — is wholly within the Department of Defense. It is used to be in the Army. It is the most "hush-hush" operation in Washington. For it deals with the whole problem of codes and ciphers used in communicating secret information to and from other countries throughout the world.

If anyone could know the secrets of this agency he could decipher and read all the messages going back and forth, not only between military installations of the United States at home and abroad, but between the United States and all its embassies and legations in foreign countries.

Petersen is charged with receiving into his own possession, outside the offices of the National Security Agency, highly secret documents beginning in 1948 and running until December 1952. During part of that period the Korean War was going on. Whether what was learned by foreign officials outside the United States as a result of this leak played a part in the unhappy result of the Korean War is not yet known.

This much is clear—the Petersen documents found their way into the hands of a foreign government which is being described as friendly. This means merely that the government concerned was not a Communist country. It does not mean that the information failed to reach one or more Communist governments. If the Communists had a man planted in the offices of a friendly government abroad, a surreptitious means of communication from Washington to Moscow was thereby opened up.

ALTHOUGH THE government in question to which the Petersen documents were transmitted is not Great Britain, it may be noted in passing that Donald MacLean, who was for a long time in charge of the "American desk" in the British Foreign Office, fled in May 1951 behind the Iron Curtain.

The new scandal points up clearly one thing — that the United States Senate is allowing itself to become the victim of a "red herring" when it proposes to spend a special session debating whether Sen. McCarthy used polite language to a general or to a senator while at the same time the weaknesses of the American security system are not being investigated.

The Congress established a Senate and a House committee on governmental operations. Sen. McCarthy as the head of the Senate committee has been trying to focus attention on the weakness of the present security system, only to find himself persecuted and prosecuted.

The facts which are emerging now indicate that a coverup job has been done on the real looseness inside executive agencies. It is not the result of any disloyalty among federal officials, but it is the direct consequence of administrative incompetence.

TO THIS DAY all the facts about the Fort Monmouth scandal have not been revealed, and determined efforts have been made to hush up what happened there. At Fort Monmouth are the secrets relating to the newest methods of detecting the approach of enemy bombers bearing atomic bombs. This is important to the safety of the people of the United States. Yet the military recommendations that certain things be cleaned up at Fort Monmouth were overruled or neglected by civilian boards whose acts have never been exposed to public view.

Why were the Army's own recommendations so long neglected at Fort Monmouth? What civilians were mixed up in this neglect of duty? These are pertinent questions, and while so far as is known thus far what happened at Fort Monmouth has no direct connection with the Petersen scandal, the underlying weakness of the system in both places is just the same. The American people do not know that the FBI has nothing to do with the operations of Fort Monmouth or the National Security Agency, and that military personnel have the primary responsibility for surveillance.

Conceding the loyalty and conscientious character of the military personnel engaged in intelligence work, the question arises at another level — the civilian boards which alone evaluate the evidence concerning personnel. Who supervises these civilian boards in the different government departments? Nobody except theoretically the busy chief of the agency itself.

THERE IS NO overall review board in existence today on either loyalty or security matters. The Truman administration had a loyalty review board, but none that was empowered to review security risk cases. The Eisenhower administration has moved a step back in abolishing the overall review board on loyalty without substituting a new board to check up on all the departmental boards in both loyalty and security cases.

Why wasn't Petersen checked and re-checked during the last four years? How many other persons are there who have not been checked and who may have been or now are leaking secrets to outside parties?

It is basically the system that's at fault. Rather than spending its time arguing about the manners of the senator from Wisconsin the Senate should be setting up a committee to find out who promoted perjury to be a major, why the civilian security boards in the Army did not accept military recommendations at Fort Monmouth in certain security matters, and why loose and inefficient methods still prevail which make it possible for the security of the United States to be damaged seriously as in the Petersen case.

Babies And Gypsum

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Babies and gypsum seem like strange partners—but the more babies the better for gypsum industry.

Because of the continuing growth of the population, the gypsum boys—like almost everyone else in the construction business—see only rosy prospects ahead.

"Almost any type of building will use some material made by a gypsum company, wallboard, plaster, gypsum lath or metal lath," notes the American Institute of Management today in a report on industry prospects.

And construction goes right on booming, the commerce and labor departments report. In the first nine months of this year a record 27½ billion dollars were spent on construction, a gain of four per cent over the previous record set in the same months of last year.

Record baby crops—along with longer lives of their grandparents—help fire up the housing industry. A growing population calls for more schools, too, and more facilities of all sorts from hospitals to shopping centers.

Couple the population gains with the rise in the average income in recent years and you get the demand for better housing, the shift to the suburbs and from one section of the country to another that has made the construction industry what Washington calls "the brightest spot in the economy."

But high costs are still a problem and the institute says: "Today the average middle-class family still pays too high a percentage of its income for housing—often old, inadequate housing." It figures that about 11 per cent of Americans' personal income goes for shelter.

So the institute concludes the gypsum industry, along with others in the construction business, still has a job to do—bring modern housing within the reach of all.

Each of the four principal companies in the field—which the institute lists as United States Gypsum, National Gypsum, Certain-tyed, Products and Celotex — are expected for several years to come to spend about five million dollars annually on further improvements and modernization.

Sales of two of the four companies have doubled since the war, one has tripled and the fourth quadrupled, largely because—the institute says — next to lumber, gypsum is the most commonly used building material.

Plants are scattered across the land, a majority of them being located near gypsum deposits to cut freight costs. About one fourth of all gypsum products are consumed along the Eastern Seaboard.

"Watch That Next Step, Cousin, It's An Ego Buster!"

Reports On Oppenheimer

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

The Harvard historian and ADA philosopher Arthur M. Schlesinger, Jr., has written a piece on Robert Oppenheimer for "The Atlantic Monthly" which intrigues me because when a historian turns propagandist, he may permit himself liberties which a journalist would reject.

Arthur Schlesinger, Jr., wrote: "Is absolute security possible short of an absolute state? Robert Oppenheimer was doubtless at moments a cocky, irritating, even arrogant man. But surely no arrogance of Oppenheimer equals the arrogance of those who, in the frightening words of the Gray board, affirm that 'it has been demonstrated that the government can search... the soul of an individual whose relationship to his government is in question.'"

"The government which claims to do this would hardly seem a government for Americans."

UNFORTUNATELY that is not what the Gray report said. The three dots which show an ellipsis in sufficient. Much more is omitted from a short paragraph which makes Schlesinger's quotation altogether inadequate. First I shall give the sentence in full that the learned historian has shortened:

"We believe that it has been demonstrated that the government can search its own soul and the soul of an individual whose relationship to his government is in question with full protection of the rights and interests of both."

Of course, the omission of the words, "with full protection of the rights and interests of both," changes the meaning of the sentence completely.

Now let us have a look at the entire paragraph in the Gray report: "We find ourselves in agreement with much that underlies both points of view. We believe that the people of our country can be reassured by this proceeding that it is possible to conduct an investigation to separate them from their sisters in the fall. She also inquired gently what would be wrong with getting paid for a couple pounds of caudal appendage that otherwise never would have a chance to grow up."

So this is the autumnal report on the sheep-raising project that keeps life from being dull out in our fence corner of Rosy Fingert Dawn. It is time for the marketing. At least it is time for the events leading up to the marketing — the events leading up to the tragedy.

There was a story in the recipe section of the newspaper the other day that advised housewives to use lamb occasionally "for variety." That's about all the lamb there is — enough to be used "for weekend farmer wonder what is economically unsound about getting upward of 100 pounds of edible livestock with a woolskin that even duPont couldn't beat from nothing but pastureland unsuitable for raising anything else."

Men were building self-sufficient civilizations on the economy of the sheep long before there was over-eating, synthetics and ulcers.

Before Synthetics

By TRUMAN TWILL

According to the dial on the bathroom scales, the bigger of the lambs we ran down for a weight check hit 101 pounds and the smaller went to 79. Since all the lambs were born last spring within two weeks of April Fool day, the 1954 crop now has reached an apparent average of close to 90 pounds in six months — pretty good going, in view of the long drought last summer when there was nothing in sight worth the trouble of biting it off.

In fact, a weekend farmer holding a double armful of squirming lamb on the platform of a bathroom scales diverted to barnyard duty for lack of anything better gets to thinking it is like finding money — this unassisted evolution of lamb chops from the Easter card stage to the nearly - full-grown stage. Technically, a lamb does not become a sheep until a year has passed, but in another six months there would be no appreciable growth in the case of a lamb already weighing 100 pounds.

It takes two operators, by the way, to perform this trick with bathroom scales — one to stand on the scales with the lamb grasped firmly by its lamb chops, one to crouch down and estimate the weight-being recorded by the jiggling needle. Since the crouching-down in this case was a character noted for optimism and also holding a 25 per cent interest in the sale of lambs, that 101-pound reading may have to be discounted for wishful thinking.

Be that as it may, the time is at hand for thinning the flock. All the lambs with tails must go. Visitors who have wondered about the tails have heard this story:

That after several hours of exhausting roundup activity a year ago, a lady of many years and much wisdom inquired gently why it wouldn't be easier the next time the new lambs were being docked to leave on the tails of the little boy lambs, thereby making it easy lies and who, when he is forced by cross-examination to admit that he lied, seems to find nothing immoral about it.

THE FOLLOWING quotations from the Gray board's report are of value in this connection:

"19. It was reported that you have consistently denied that you have ever been a member of the Communist party. It was further reported that you stated to a representative of the Federal Bureau of Investigation in 1946 that you had a change of mind regarding the policies and politics of the Soviet Union about the time of the signing of the Soviet-German pact in 1939."

"It was further reported that during 1950 you stated to a representative of the Federal Bureau of Investigation that you had never attended a meeting of the Communist party; and that at the time of the Russo-Finnish War and the subsequent break between Germany and Russia in 1941, you realized the Communist party infiltration tactics into the alleged anti-Fascist groups and became fed up with the whole thing and lost what little interest you had."

"19. Prior to April 1942 you had contributed $150 per month to the Communist party in the San Francisco area, and that the last such payment was apparently made in April 1942 immediately before your entry into the atomic bomb project."

The Divorce

Judge — Well, let's see what's on the calendar today.

Marilyn — Calendar! Have I got to go through that again?

Judge (reading) — This is the case of Monroe versus DiMaggio. What a chance to increase my collection of autographs! Joe, may I have yours?

Joe — This is the first time anybody has asked for mine ahead of Marilyn's in any joint appearance. You know how this makes me feel.

Marilyn — And you can get an idea how it makes me feel!

Judge — Miss Monroe, I must apologize for this courtroom, but we didn't have time to install a subway grating and wind-blown machine.

Marilyn — That's okay, Judge. My press agent and photographers will think of something just as good.

Judge — So you are the defendant in this case, Joe?

Joe — I'm not sure whether I should be listed under the heading of "Defendants" or "Left on Bases."

Judge — I'm sorry to see this ball game broken on up. What happened?

Joe — Baseball and Hollywood are so different. In baseball you're expected to get home often; in Hollywood it can bring a legal conference. In baseball it's teamwork; in Hollywood it's all a matter of electric signs. Imagine a baseball man getting his release because he doesn't like to stay up late nights!

Judge — Marilyn, you charge grievous mental suffering. What's that?

Marilyn — It is brought on by emphasis on domesticity, a prospect of evenings at home and recurrent suggestions that the glow of a fire-side can top the glory of neon lights.

Judge — Didn't you promise to love, honor and obey until death did part?

Marilyn — In my business death sets in when a girl isn't seen outside her home much.

Judge — I just can't figure out how a man who was good enough, for the Yankees for eight years was fired by you after only eight and a half months.

Marilyn — He never argued with the Yankee management over how it spent its nights.

Judge — Don't you think you should consider a career, fame, fortune and publicity less important than husband, home and enduring love.

Marilyn — Are you a judge or a heckler?

Lawyer—Judge, my client is a heartbroken wife, a woman who is all broken up that this had to happen, a girl whose eyes are red from weeping over this divorce action.

Judge—I don't follow you. She herself brought this suit didn't she?

Lawyer — Yes, but...

Judge (signalling to the bullpen) — Bring in another lawyer. This one is beanballing me!

The Cleveland Indians will have new owners next season. Bought at a firesale, due to damage in the Giant conflagration?

As we get it Joe DiMaggio's complaint is that it is very hard to get acquainted with a Hollywood star AFTER YOU MARRY HER. The movie colony has few marriages that endure long enough for even wooden anniversaries. Perhaps there is a need for a PLASTIC anniversary for any anniversary that last over six months. We had given up hope of coexistence in most places, but it hurts to find it isn't even possible between movie celebrities and baseball stars.

Stocks are so high that some people think they may have to split the ultimate headaches three for one.

Pike Chairman Attacks Audit

Rhodes' Report Seen Political Argument

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Turnpike Commission chairman says a state auditor's report on the commission is nothing more than a "plan political" argument and should not even be dignified with a reply.

Chairman James W. Shocknessy struck back at statements contained in an audit prepared by the office of State Auditor James A. Rhodes, Republican candidate for governor.

Last Friday, Rhodes demanded answers to a series of questions about the continuing audit. One question concerned Shocknessy's earlier declaration that he was not a partner in the Columbus law firm of Shocknessy, Summers and Denton, as the audit stated.

The audit claimed Shocknessy, a Columbus attorney, represents two firms that wrote some 44 million dollars in insurance for turnpike contractors. The firms are the Standard Accident Insurance Co. and the U. S. Fidelity & Guaranty Co.

Shocknessy released a letter to Martindale - Hubbell, publishers of the American Bar Assn. Law Lists. Referring to the listed firm of Shocknessy, John Summers and Florence Denton with Howard M. Metzgerbaum as associate, the letter said in part:

"... We are not partners... our association since 1946 with Mr. Summers has always been that of attorneys practicing in the same quarters under a common name sharing overhead expenses in agreed proportions."

Shocknessy said he had been in partnership with Miss Denton until Jan. 1, 1953.

The two insurance firms mentioned in the audit, Shocknessy said, "were occasional clients of Mr. Summers in the past..."

Shocknessy said Summers deleted the names of the two insurance firms in proofs for the 1955 law directory because Summers had not had any representations for either of them "in such a long while."

Gov. Frank J. Lausche, Democratic nominee for a fifth term, has ignored Rhodes' demands for answers to questions on the audit and has defended Shocknessy as an honest and able public official.

Shocknessy said the commission's credit remains high and its securities attractive in financial markets despite fears that they might be affected adversely by the audit. The commission sold bonds to finance the 326 - million dollar toll road across northern Ohio.

'Musical Americana' Scheduled At High School Wednesday

The songs and dances of "Musical Americana," which will be staged in the High School auditorium Wednesday at 8:15 p.m. on the Northern Columbiana County Community Association program, have been chosen to represent particular phases of American Life.

This is the first concert of the association's series here.

According to Mary Hunter, the show's producer and director, "the program begins with the music and dancing which belonged to our forefathers before we became a nation, and moves through the great days of the sailing ships to be long lines of prairie schooners that stretched across the plains to the mining camps of the California gold rush and the western-most settlements of the United States."

"... today the juke box plays the direct descendant of the American-style folk ballad which expresses the same feelings, the same ideas as the ballads our forefathers sang."

The folk concert expresses the phases Miss Hunter describes, and interpretations are given by the cast of 20 men and women including Otis Bigelow, Keith Chalmers, Virginia Copeland, Margaret Cuddy, Eric Darling, Norris Greer, Ray Harrison, Sam Herman, Francis Kennedy, Joseph Kowalesky, Mary Alyce Kubas, Kenneth McGuire, Elizabeth Parrish, John Reardon, William Ross, Thomas Skelton, Joan Skinner, James Tarbuton and Robert Wallace.

The program is as follows: "Walk the Green Grass" by the entire company, (A pre-revolutionary dancing - singing game); "Portraits on the Wall - The Forefathers by Norris Greer, Francis Kennedy, Robert Wallace, Elizabeth Parrish, Margaret Cuddy, Joan Skinner, Ray Harrison.

"Boston Singing School." (Instructions to Singers from William Billings! Columbian Repository, 1770) by Chalmers, Kennedy, Parrish, Copeland, Cuddy, Wallace, Ross, Bigelow, Tarbuton, Reardon, Greer.

"The State of the Nation," by Norris Greer; (Letter from Benjamin Franklin, written in 1799). "All Day Singing," by Francis Kennedy.

"Yankee Clipper" by Harrison, Ross, Tarbuton, Mary Alyce Kubas, Otis Bigelow, John Reardon, Chalmers, Darling, Greer, Tarbuton, Wallace, and Cuddy.

"Go West, Young Man!" (The Journey to the West in dance and song; including The Departure, Down the Ohio River, Across the Wide Missouri and On to the Plains, Night Camp on the Plains, Lament, Hangtown - Gold Camp, 1850).

"Saturday Night," written by Paul Green, starring Greer, Kennedy, Cuddy, Chalmers, Wallace, Harrison and Darling and company; "The Infernal Contraptions - 1900," depicting the automobile, telephone and phonograph by Copeland, Parrish, Reardon, Greer, Skinner, and Harrison with "Birthright Restored" act by Skinner, Parrish, Cuddy, Kubas, and Bigelow.

"Night Spot - Highway 66" by Copeland, Jerome Robbins, Harrison, Reardon, Cuddy, Kubas, Skinner, Ross, Tarbuton, Chalmers, Darling and Greer.

The party started at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Glen McAfee on the Pine Lake Rd. where Mr. and Mrs. Tony Hrvatin assisted in entertaining. After bowling at an alley in Salem the couples returned to the McAfee home for a white elephant exchange and lunch.

Hostesses at the regular party for the women Thursday will be Mrs. Thomas Fidoe at her home on the Pine Lake Rd.

Democratic Women To Meet Thursday

Mrs. Martin Lutsch Jr., president of the Salem Democratic Women's Association, reminds all members to attend the meeting Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in the office of Attorney Guy Mauro, local party chairman, when the November ballot and voting procedure will be explained.

This meeting was discussed Friday when the women, including officers, chairman of committees and trustees met in Ruth Smucker House to outline bylaws for presentation in booklet form to the Salem Federation of Women's Clubs. Names of club members also will be submitted.

Committee chairmen include Mrs. William Reardon, ways and means; Mrs. William Barry, program; Mrs. Leo Copacila, membership and Mrs. Harold Hannay, social. Officers are Mrs. Lutsch; Mrs. Reardon, vice president; Mrs. Dean Cranmer, secretary and Mrs. Bud Boals, treasurer. Mrs. Cranmer and Mrs. Boals are representatives to the Federation. The women will meet again Nov. 3.

Marcia Ann McDonald Honored On Birthday

To honor their daughter Marcia Ann on her seventh birthday, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest R. McDonald of the Sebring - Pine Lake Road entertained nine of her schoolmates from second grade at Buckeye School Sunday afternoon.

Games and songs directed by Mr. Reardon, William Ross, Thomas Skelton, Joan Skinner, James Tarbuton and Robert Wallace.

The program is as follows: "Walk the Green Grass" by the entire company, (A pre-revolutionary dancing - singing game); "Portraits on the Wall - The Forefathers by Norris Greer, Francis Kennedy, Robert Wallace, Elizabeth Parrish, Margaret Cuddy, Joan Skinner, Ray Harrison.

"Boston Singing School." (Instructions to Singers from William Billings! Columbian Repository, 1770) by Chalmers, Kennedy, Parrish, Copeland, Cuddy, Wallace, Ross, Bigelow, Tarbuton, Reardon, Greer.

"The State of the Nation," by Norris Greer; (Letter from Benjamin Franklin, written in 1799). "All Day Singing," by Francis Kennedy.

"Yankee Clipper" by Harrison, Ross, Tarbuton, Mary Alyce Kubas, Otis Bigelow, John Reardon, Chalmers, Darling, Greer, Tarbuton, Wallace, and Cuddy.

"Go West, Young Man!" (The Journey to the West in dance and song; including The Departure, Down the Ohio River, Across the Wide Missouri and On to the Plains, Night Camp on the Plains, Lament, Hangtown - Gold Camp, 1850).

"Saturday Night," written by Paul Green, starring Greer, Kennedy, Cuddy, Chalmers, Wallace, Harrison and Darling and company; "The Infernal Contraptions - 1900," depicting the automobile, telephone and phonograph by Copeland, Parrish, Reardon, Greer, Skinner, and Harrison with "Birthright Restored" act by Skinner, Parrish, Cuddy, Kubas, and Bigelow.

"Night Spot - Highway 66" by Copeland, Jerome Robbins, Harrison, Reardon, Cuddy, Kubas, Skinner, Ross, Tarbuton, Chalmers, Darling and Greer.

The party started at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Glen McAfee on the Pine Lake Rd. where Mr. and Mrs. Tony Hrvatin assisted in entertaining. After bowling at an alley in Salem the couples returned to the McAfee home for a white elephant exchange and lunch.

Hostesses at the regular party for the women Thursday will be Mrs. Thomas Fidoe at her home on the Pine Lake Rd.

Driving Campaign Opened By B & P W

In observance of National Business and Professional Women's Week, the local B. & P. W. Club is sponsoring a campaign this week for Safe and Courteous Driving. A winner will be chosen each day by members of the Salem Police Department and awards will be made at the Oct. 25 meeting in the Ruth Smucker House.

The club's benefit card party is scheduled for 8 tonight in the Elks Home. Eleven members of the local club attended the opening meeting of the week when members of the Cadiz B. & P. W. were hostesses at a dinner meeting for District 8 Sunday at the Cadiz Country Club.

Attending from Salem were Miss Jeanette Hoch, Mrs. Gilbert Edgerton, Miss Belle Golladay, Mrs. Russell Shaffer, Mrs. Donald Cannon, Mrs. William Park, Miss Martha Park, Mrs. Margaret Lamont, Miss Mary Gill, Miss Josephine Rose and Mrs. Ruth Purviance.

Sunday, Salem club members will attend services in a body at the Holy Trinity English Lutheran Church.

Presbyterian Men Plan Annual Rally

The 4th annual rally of Presbyterian Men of the Synod of Ohio will take place in Canton Saturday and Sunday, Oct. 16 and 17. Men from the Salem Church plan to attend.

Registration Saturday at 9 a.m., will be followed by a talk on "The Growing Comprehension of the Task of the Church by its Laymen" by David B. Cassat of Dubuque, Iowa, president of the National Council. Workshops will take place in the afternoon.

Speaker at the dinner meeting will be Dr. Charles T. Leber, general secretary of the board of foreign missions of the church, on the topic "Christ and Men in Revolt."

Holy Communion will be administered Sunday at 7:15 a.m. followed by breakfast. Dr. Howard P. Lowry, president of the College of Wooster, will speak on "Christian Education."

Dr. George Parkinson, host church pastor, will conduct the worship service. Speaker at the concluding session will be Dr. Herick Young, president of Western College for Women at Oxford. His topic will be "New Minds, New Men."

Benefit Supper Set By Co-Wed Class

At the Sunday night meeting of the Co-Wed Class in the First Christian Church, plans were made for a benefit supper Nov. 6. Proceeds will go to the building fund.

Women of the class will assist the food committee, comprised of Mrs. Alfred August, Mrs. Virgil Neiderhiser and Mrs. Chester Ping.

Donald Way, Mrs. Robert Campbell and Gerald Koch were appointed to the nominating committee to prepare a slate for officers to be elected at the Nov. 14 meeting. Lunch was served by Mrs. Gerald Koch, Mrs. Ping and Mrs. Donald Way.

C. Y. F. Views Movie

A movie entitled "Dating" was shown at the Sunday evening meeting of the Christian Youth Fellowship in the Educational Building.

Following the showing of the film, the group attended church services and then enjoyed a social hour at the home of the minister, Rev. Harold Deitch of W. 10th St.

The next C.Y.F. meeting will be Sunday at 6 p.m. in the Educational Building.

SORORITY TO MEET

Beta Phi Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority will meet Thursday evening in Ruth Smucker House for a "model" meeting.

Senior Class To Present 3-Act Comedy

"The Fighting Littles," a comedy in three acts, has been chosen by the officers of the senior class at Salem High School, Bob Brantingham, Lowell Fleischer and Barbara J. Berry, as the annual class play.

The production, under the direction of Miss Irene Weeks, dramatic teachers at the school, will be presented to the public Friday and Saturday night, Nov. 19 and 20, in the school auditorium. Junior High School students will see the play Wednesday, Nov. 17, and High School students, Nov. 18.

Tryouts for parts are being held this week. There are 15 speaking parts, five male and 10 female.

The action of the comedy, adapted from a novel of the same name by Booth Tarkington, takes place in the living room of the Little family.

The "fireworks" begin when Daddy Little reaches the opinion that all his daughters' friends are "young hoodlums" and daughter Goody's boy friend "the worst young hoodlum of the lot."

Only when the battle royal is over do the Littles discover that they have learned to understand each other and are really a united family - and Mr. Little finds that the young folks aren't all "going to the dogs" after all.

'Long Distance' Party Honors Mrs. Lake

Friday night's stork shower party for Mrs. Victor Lake, the former Carol Steffel of Salem, was a "long distance" affair with the 35 relatives and friends in attendance speaking by telephone to the honoree at her home in Pemberton, N.J.

Mrs. Lake's mother, Mrs. C. O. Steffel, planned the party in the Steffel home on Aetna St. The gifts, which were unopened, will be taken later to Mrs. Lake, whose husband Cpl. Lake, is stationed at Fort Dix, N.J.

A large stork placed on a pink cloth stood guard over the gifts which the guests brought. A pink and white theme prevailed in all the party appointments.

Traveling bingo entertained, with prizes going to Miss Peggy Stone, Miss Sally Wilson, Mrs. Paul Fogg, Mrs. Charles Butz and Mrs. Carl Sobotka.

Retreat This Weekend Planned By Fellowship

Final plans for a retreat this weekend at Camp Wanake near Beach City were made when the Interdenominational Christian Fellowship met Sunday at Westminster House.

Devotions at the meeting were led by Mary Steffel and Elma Pemberton.

The panel discussion on Christian Discipleship was conducted by panelists, Bob Pyle and Nancy Diehl, and the moderator, Ann Sweeney.

Friday night the group observed "Open House" for young single adults when Rev. David Mair showed slides of his recent trip to England and Scotland. Games and refreshments were served.

Dorothy Fay To Wed

A late December wedding is being planned by Miss Dorothy Fay, whose engagement to Byron S. Huntington is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Brimlow of Beloit.

Mr. Huntington, son of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Gibbons of Sebring, is an employee of the Spaulding China Inc. and his fiancée is employed by the Armour and Co. in Alliance.

Kecks Represent Church At Parley

Mr. and Mrs. William Keck of Sebring - Pine Lake Road, represented the First Methodist Church at the second National Conference on Family Life held in Cleveland Friday through Sunday.

Delegates and ministers representing Methodist churches from all over the world heard the theme "The Christian Family. The Hope of the World," discussed by noted religious leaders of various denominations and nationalities.

Choirs from Baldwin Wallace College, Mount Union College and Ohio Northern University provided music for the program which included study sessions on the following topics:

"Achieving a Mature Life Within the Family"; "The Family Living in the Community"; "The Family and World Responsibilities"; "The Family and the Church Working Together"; and "The Family Developing Its Spiritual Life."

Alliance Couple Feted On Golden Wedding

Many remembrances were received by Mr. and Mrs. William Fites of Alliance when 150 friends and neighbors called Sunday at the open house reception in the celebration of their 50th wedding anniversary.

The couple, who were married Oct. 13, 1904, in Youngstown, had the help of their five children, all from Alliance, in the celebration. Included were Mrs. Gladys Drake, Wilbur Fites, Mrs. Bernice Stockli, Katherine Paine. Their eight grandchildren and two great grandchildren also were present.

Serving the guests from Salem, Columbiana, Springfield, New Waterford and New Castle, Pa., were Mrs. Albert Fronk of Salem, a sister-in-law of Mrs. Fites; Mrs. B. R. Everson, her sister and Mrs. Wilbur Fites of Alliance, a daughter-in-law.

Places were laid for 150 and visiting and reminiscing occupied the social hour.

Mahoning Presbytery Session Set Thursday

The Alliance - Massillon District meeting of Mahoning Presbytery is scheduled for Thursday at the Church with women from Home, North, Ellsworth, Concord, Sebring, North Benton, Canton, Massillon and Alliance attending.

A skit will be presented by women who attended the national synodical at Purdue recently. Included will be Mrs. Nick Hampu, Mrs. E. T. Corad, and Mrs. Clara Rickard. Mrs. Madge K. Shively of North Benton will assist with the program.

Daughters of Union Veterans Plan Meeting

Mrs. Blaine McClaskey, Mrs. Howard Holloway and Mrs. Wallace Stewart of the local Daughters of Union Veterans chapter attended the convention of District 1 in the new Salvation Army Citadel in Akron Saturday.

The group will meet for its next regular meeting Tuesday, Oct. 19, at 12:30 p.m. in the G.A.R. Hall for a dessert luncheon.

Sandra Swartz Honored On 13th Birthday

A birthday party Friday in the C. R. Swartz home on N. Ellsworth Ave., marked the 13th anniversary of Sandra Swartz.

Thirteen guests brought gifts for the honoree. Numerous prizes were given at the affair which included a scavenger hunt, games and the playing of records.

Nancy Swartz served refreshments at her sister's party. Besides the gifts, a big birthday cake was decorated in honor of Sandra.

Mrs. Nevin Frontz Feted At Post Nuptial Shower

Mrs. Nevin Frontz of North Benton was honored at a surprise post nuptial shower Friday evening. The event was arranged by Mrs. Curtis Mosher at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bayless of Damascus.

Streamers from a decorated sprinkling can suspended to the ceiling reached to gifts on the table. A buffet lunch was served from a bridal table centered with a two-tiered wedding cake. The decorative color theme for the lunch, the favors, sprinkling can and streamers was rose and turquoise.

Prizes given in the games reverted to the honoree.

Mrs. Leland Holloway, mother of Mrs. Frontz, the former Betty Holloway of Damascus, was a special guest. Twenty-five neighbors and friends from Damascus, Sebring, and Salem were present.

Miss Furey To Wed Vance Dunn Nov. 6

Mrs. Sadie Furey of Hanoverton announces the approaching marriage of her daughter, Marguerite, to Vance Dunn, son of Mrs. Lucy Dunn of Canton.

The wedding will be an event of Saturday, Nov. 6 at 9:30 a.m. in St. Philip Neri Church at Dun-gannon.

Miss Furey, a graduate of Augusta High School, attended Youngstown College and is employed by the Deville Lumber Co. of Canton. Mr. Dunn attended McKinley High School and is employed by the Bender - Loudon Trucking Corp. at Hanoverton.

150 Attend Informal Tool Co. Dinner

Retired employees and newcomers to the Salem Tool Co. and other guests were numbered among those attending a Salem Tool Co. informal dinner Thursday night at the Winona Methodist Church.

Places were laid for 150 and visiting and reminiscing occupied the social hour.

DON'T BOTHER ABOUT THE ALARM CLOCK!

Patriarch Militant Women Meet Here

A meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary of Patriarch Militant in the Salem I.O.O.F. hall Friday evening was followed by a Battalion meeting for 75 members and guests from Niles, Warren, Youngstown, Alliance and Sebring.

Mrs. Janet Reinher of Columbiana presided at the Auxiliary session when plans were made for the next get-together Nov. 12 when state president, Mrs. Jessie Schwab of Bowling Green will be in charge of inspection.

The men joined the women for the Battalion meeting presided over by Battalion Aide Helen B. Tucker of Cortland. A variety of entertainment was enjoyed.

Following a half hour recital by dancing pupils of the Sleafred School in Alliance, Sherry Ward and Lana Koller of Columbiana presented an acrobatic tap number. Mrs. Ralph Irons' solos were "Beautiful Dreamer" and "Laugh It Off."

Mrs. Evelyn Trayer gave a travelogue of her vacation trip out west and showed colored pictures in illustration. The Salem members were host at the lunch which concluded the meeting.

It was announced that the Salem Battalion won the attendance plaque with more than 50 per cent of their membership in attendance.

Russian Return Of Port Arthur To China Hints Of Strain Among Reds

By The Associated Press
The Moscow announcement of a new agreement with Red China is an event of great significance. Among other things, it hints at the existence of strains in Moscow-Peking relations and efforts to ease them.

Since the Russians are notoriously unwilling to get out of any place once they have a foot in the door, the announcement that they are leaving Port Arthur by next June can only be viewed with suspicion. Perhaps the Red Chinese politely insisted on the departure.

But there was compensation for this, from the Soviet viewpoint. The communists announced that a railway will be constructed from Alma Ata, capital of Soviet Kazakhstan near the China frontier, through remote Sinkiang and Ulan Bator, the capital of Outer Mongolia.

Both Sinkiang and Mongolia appear to have figured largely in strains between Moscow and Peking. It seemed highly significant that Chinese Premier Chou En-lai, on his way home from the Geneva conference, chose to stop off at Ulan Bator.

Outer Mongolia once was Chinese territory. Russians infiltrated for many years under both czars and commissars. The Soviets caused it to secede from Chinese rule. First Nationalist and then Red China were forced to recognize the permanent separation of Outer Mongolia from China. But the Chinese never lost interest in the area, now designated a "peoples republic" by the Russians.

It is also likely the Chinese are not overly happy about gradual Soviet domination in China's Sinkiang province, which the Russians have been draining economically for some time. It is a rich area, twice the size of Texas, with many natural resources, including uranium.

The Russians apparently want to continue exploiting both those rich areas. To placate the Chinese they agree (1) "to get out of Port Arthur, (2) to increase the number of heavy industrial projects they are helping the Chinese to build from 141 to 156 and (3) to extend a long-term credit of 130 million dollars.

The Soviet Union also will transfer its share in joint Russian-Chinese companies to Peking, but this is no giveaway, any more than the economic help is. Both are paid for by what the communists call "items of usual export" from China. That means more export of what the Chinese can least afford—food.

The new treaty shows that the Moscow-Peking axis still is in working order, because it is to the benefit of both sides. But in the background are the words spoken there in a speech by Premier Chou En-lai, bringing home to his distinguished Soviet visitors that Red China sets great store by her territorial integrity and sovereignty. For the benefit of the visitors, he repeated many of the things he said when he was touring south and southeast Asia after Geneva, spreading the doctrine of "Asia for the Asians" and indicating he did not exactly consider Muscovites as Asians.

The new treaty shows that things are still pretty much of a matter of hard and watchful bargaining between the two big Communist allies. It gives a broad hint that there are more strains between the two than appear on a surface overlaid with tremendous propaganda about their "unbreakable friendship."

Free Loading Was Early Custom In U. S., Gains In Popularity

NEW YORK (AP)—Columbus discovered America 462 years ago today. And it couldn't have been long after that when those who followed him began to angle for free transportation and various forms of free loading. It quickly became one of the earliest of old American customs.

By your grandfather's day, any number of persons could get a pass on the railroads for themselves and family. Since then, that has come to a stop for most people, except railroad men themselves.

Now even the railroad man is threatened with loss of an entirely free-wheeling pass. The Pennsylvania Railroad announces it's cutting down on passes for officials and employees of other railroads. The Pennsy says smugly that since it operates "such a large proportion of railroad passenger service" it has to carry more dead-weight employees of other roads than these carriers tote employees of the Pennsylvania.

So it proposes that all concerned start paying their own way, except for vacation travel and emergency trips and it adds that trips to Washington to see regulatory agencies are no emergencies these days.

Railroads aren't the only ones to exchange courtesies. The custom is widespread in the profession. Doctors' families often get special consideration from hospitals and from other physicians, for example.

Free loading is an art widely practiced in business. Officials—or even mere hired hands—of a corporation often take a valued customer, or a potential customer (who is likely to be even more highly valued) to lunch, or better still, to dinner and a girls show. It's customary for the business man to pick up the check on his expense account.

This is fine for the customer. And don't forget that the host is also getting a free lunch, or a free ogle at the girls. This could account for a part of the generous impulses behind these invitations.

Uncle Sam is beginning to take note of this great outpouring of generosity and goodfellowship by businessmen as it shows up in the income tax returns.

Corporations are being asked increasingly to explain entertainment items. Couldn't the customer have been sold if he hadn't been taken to the most expensive nightclub? And did four of the company's junior executives have to go along—on the tax-deductible expense account?

Often corporations take whole plane loads or special rail-carfuls of people they want to impress for one reason or another to some distant spot to look over factories, mines or just sites for prospective mines. These trips flourished particularly in the days of the excess profits tax. It was easy for the corporate executives to point out to the company's accountants that 70 per cent or more of any money saved by not throwing such a junket would just go to Uncle Sam for taxes anyway.

Expense account traveling and dining are so widespread these days that you can usually assume that any stranger in the hotel dining room is eating off the company—otherwise he'd be at the corner drugstore counter.

As for congressmen, their junkets are world-wide. And the taxpayer picks up the check almost every time.

So the Pennsylvania Railroad, by suggesting that some dead-weights pay their way, could be striking at an old American custom.

Remember, Columbus may have laid the foundations for the "Home of the Brave." But he also found "The Land of the Free."

Paralyzed Girl, 10, Gets Schooling By Phone

CINCINNATI (AP)—Ten-year-old Paula Bratt is paralyzed from the waist down but she keeps her chin up.

She gets her schooling at home via a two-way communications system which connects her home in suburban Wyoming to the elementary school one mile away. Thus she is able to hear what goes on in the classroom and is able to answer the teacher's questions.

Paula, who became paralyzed two years ago after a cyst was removed from her spine, said going to school by remote control has its advantages.

"I'm comfortable," she said. "I can always ask mother when I get stuck on a question." Then, too, she said: "I get all my meals in bed."

Ike To Speak On Farm Program

Major Address Set For Indiana Friday

DENVER (AP)—An important congressional campaign issue—the administration's controversial farm program—will be the theme of a major address by President Eisenhower in Indianapolis Friday night.

The Denver White House late yesterday gave newsmen details about the President's plans for the speech.

Asst. Press Secretary Murray Snyder declared the Republican party "very probably" would purchase television and radio time to get Eisenhower's views on the farm program before as many American voters as possible.

GOP leaders in the Midwestern farm belt area reportedly have been urging the President to make a major address in that area in an effort to spur the Republican drive to keep control of Congress in the Nov. 2 elections.

But Snyder repeatedly—and with explanation—soft-pedaled the inevitable political aspects of Eisenhower's Indianapolis farm speech, although he did say the administration's farm program is a campaign issue.

He announced the address at the Butler University fieldhouse will be sponsored by the National Institute of Animal Agriculture, and added that the organization describes itself as nonpartisan.

The administration program, approved by Congress at the last session, provides for a shift from rigid 90 per cent of parity price support of basic commodities to a system of flexible supports.

Hearing For Hormel On Dope Charge Set

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Jazz pianist George Hormel, heir to a meat packing fortune, will appear Oct. 26 for arraignment on a charge of possessing narcotics.

A California Narcotics Bureau officer testified at his preliminary hearing yesterday that the 26-year-old musician, arrested Sept. 19, at first denied smoking marijuana but later admitted taking "just one puff."

The officer, Matthew O'Connor, testified that Hormel admitted giving $20 to another musician to purchase 26 marijuana cigarettes from a parking lot attendant. O'Connor said Hormel's share of the purchase was 13 cigarettes and that they were secreted over the sun visor of his auto, which was seized by state officers. Hormel is free on $1,500 bond.

Marie Natvig Says She'll Kill Lawyer

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gray haired Marie Natvig, who has threatened to "kill" an attorney for publisher Edward Lamb if the lawyer tries to find her children, is expected back in the witness chair today at an inquiry into Lamb's background.

The 50-year-old Miami Beach, Fla., divorcee was excused from the stand at a Federal Communications Commission hearing yesterday after shaking a heavy water pitcher about a foot from attorney Russell Morton Brown's face and screaming:

"Mr. Brown, if you contact my children, I'll kill you."

Commission Examiner Herbert Sharfman pounded vainly for order as she yelled at Brown amid shouts from opposing counsel.

Commission Atty. Walter R. Powell Jr. said she was so upset by Brown's desire to interview her son she was physically unable to continue. She is prepared to resume today, he said.

The 18-day-old hearing was ordered to weigh allegations that Lamb, a Toledo, Ohio, resident who publishes the Erie, Pa., Dispatch and owns several radio and television stations, once knowingly associated with Communists.

Lamb, who is seeking to renew the license of his Erie television station, WICU, has repeatedly denied the allegations. He contends commission investigators tried to induce people to testify falsely against him.

Floodwaters Hit Chicago 83 Years Too Late

CHICAGO (AP)—A history fan noted that the floodwaters which hit Chicago over the weekend arrived 83 years late. The rain started on the anniversary of the hottest day of the great Chicago fire. The big blaze began Oct. 8, 1871, and was a conflagration by Oct. 9.

Salem Faces Winterville, Winner Of 31 Straight, Friday

Barrett Works For Upset

Dale Middeker Leads Quakers In Scoring

By LOWELL FLEISCHER

Senior halfback Dale Middeker leads the Quaker grid scoring this season with a total of four touchdowns for 24 points. Quaker Captain and right half Jim Beard has two TDs for 12 points and Larry Stoffer, senior end, has the other Salem score, for six points.

Beard has run over two Quaker extra points while junior Jack Alexander has run one over and kicked three. Salem has made good on all but one of their points after touchdown.

The local's opponents have scored a total of 70 point on 10 touchdowns, seven extra points and a field goal. The field goal provided the margin of win for the Canton Timken Trojans last Saturday night.

THIS WEEK Coach Ben Barrett's charges take on the Winterville Golden Warriors with a 4-0 mark for the season. Last week the Warriors won number 30 straight and their 38th game without a loss. Just after their long winning streak got started the Warriors fought a 7-7 tie with Toronto in 1950.

Their long string of victories is believed to be a new record in the Ohio Valley and perhaps in the state. Winterville has defeated Wellville, Mingo, Bridgeport and Springfield Twp. this season.

Last year the Warriors collected a total of 218 points while holding their opponents to 70 markers. Coach Robert McFadden lost 13 men through graduation last year and had to practically rebuild his squad this season. Four of last year's first string regulars returned around which he built his team this year.

Some of the squads that have fallen beneath the Winterville onslaught are Wellsville, Springfield Twp., Smithfield, Toronto, Mingo, Jefferson Union, Newcomerstown, Bridgeport, Cadiz, Carrollton and Avella.

Coach McFarren says his boys aren't interested in a state wide acclaim and just play their best. "We don't go too much out of our class either," says the coach. Winterville is a Class A school with 469 students, about half of them boys. McFarren is currently carrying a 47-man squad.

THE WARRIOR coach for seven seasons now says also that he has no panacea for winning football except perhaps stressed training in fundamentals, perfect execution for a limited number of plays and the development of a team spirit. Very few of the Winterville squad members have ever made an all-star squad.

Winterville Principal S. D. Cunningham says that winning at football has become such a habit at Winterville that most of the Warrior fans wouldn't know what to do if they lost a game.

Quaker Coach Ben Barrett is putting his charges through a rough week of practice in preparation for the tilt and is hoping to give the Winterville fans a loss to think about. The Warriors are expected to bring a crowd of about 900 Winterville fans with them Friday night.

After Winterville, Youngstown is Rayen is the only Quaker opponent with a perfect season record. The Youngstowners have wins over Woodrow Wilson, North, Struthers and Youngstown Ursuline. Lisbon has three straight wins now after the Blue Devils' initial loss to Akron Coventry.

East Liverpool has a 2-2 record with wins over Cleveland Glenville, and Steubenville Big Red and losses to New Philadelphia and Steubenville Central Catholic. Wellsville also has a 2-2 season mark. The Bengals have defeated Weirton, W. Va. and Toronto while losing to Belaire and Winterville.

Red Sox Hire Pinky Higgins As Manager

By BOB HOOBING

BOSTON (AP)—The Boston Red Sox, joined into action by rumors that other major league teams were after the services of Frank (Pinky) Higgins, have signed their Louisville farm club ace and former local favorite to a two-year managerial contract.

Higgins' appointment to succeed Lou Boudreau, whose second two-year pact with the Sox had a season to run, was made yesterday by General Manager Joe Cronin at a hastily-called press conference.

Cronin was asked why Higgins, groomed in the Red Sox minor league chain for eight years, wasn't called up next year when Boudreau's contract ran out.

"It wasn't so much getting rid of Boudreau as it was saving Higgins for the organization," Cronin answered. "He had three offers to manage other teams—two of them very definite, one in each league—and it wouldn't have been fair for us to stand in his way for advancement.

Those definite offers are believed to have come from the Baltimore Orioles, where in his present status Paul Richards is both general and field manager, and the Philadelphia Phillies.

The decision to bring up the 45-year-old Higgins was made in a long distance telephone conversation Sunday night between Cronin and Red Sox owner Tom Yawkey—some 24 hours after Pinky's Louisville team of the American Association won the Little World Series from Syracuse of the International league.

Higgins and Boudreau were informed by phone just prior to the press conference.

Unknowns Put Navy Into U.S. Grid Limelight

By GEORGE BOWEN

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP)—Where did this football talent seem to come from suddenly on the undefeated Navy squad?

The Middies, three-time winners, vaulted into the national limelight Saturday with a smashing 25-0 victory that dumped Stanford from the undefeated ranks.

They came home from that one to a terrific welcome last night. Tecumseh Court in front of the midshipment dormitory was dark when the buses pulled in, but within seconds it was brilliantly lighted and filled with 3,600 shouting midshipmen.

Some of the names they hailed were strange to last year's varsity roster.

Some were buried among the jayvees or so far back among the varsity subs that only their parents knew they were there.

Dick Echard caught public attention fast as one of these Johnny-come-latelies.

Hardly anyone heard of him until the Dartmouth game, when an injury to first-string quarterback George Welsh gave him his chance.

Echard threw two touchdown passes to pull Navy ahead.

Echard had been playing football at the academy for three years, with the piebals (freshmen) and the junior varsity.

He's no exception. There are two other seniors in the first-string line, Len Benzi at guard and Bob Davis at center, who haven't earned a varsity letter yet.

At tackle is Jim Royer, who also slaved on the jayvees last year and at end Jim Owen, who was fourth string on the varsity.

At the start of the season, Coach Eddie Erdelatz admitted it seemed trite but said most of any success the Navy team had would be due to "a great desire to play football."

Echard is more than bearing him out. The 168-pounder from Peoria, Ill., was described in Navy's publicity brochure as "determined to see varsity action. Will not concede the starting assignment at quarterback to anyone."

There were two letter winners ahead of him, Welsh and John Weaver. He threw two more touchdowns passes against Stanford. Coach Erdelatz is going to have a hard time keeping anyone ahead of him now.

Patterson Defeats Ferdinand In Eight

NEW YORK (AP)—The Bobo Olson-Joe Giardello middleweight title match, announced for San Francisco Dec. 15, has drawn sharp criticism from Bob Christenberry, chairman of the New York State Athletic Commission.

"Ridiculous," said Christenberry last night at St. Nicholas Arena. "They made a match with a man (Giardello) in the hospital. I will have more to say about recognition of the bout when the world championship committee meets in London next month."

Christenberry obviously referred to pictures in the morning paper showing Giardello in a wheel chair after an operation to remove a torn cartilage in his left knee at Philadelphia. His surgeons, however, said he should be able to start roadwork in a month.

Floyd Patterson, picking his way toward a shot at the light heavyweight championship, has disposed of his 16th victim in 17 pro fights. Esau Ferdinand of San Francisco was the latest to bow before the former Olympic champion on a unanimous decision in eight rounds last night at St. Nicholas Arena.

A crowd of 1,200 saw Patterson's sharper punches and superior speed pile up a wide early margin.

Bobby Dykes, the Miami, Fla., stringbean, won a unanimous decision over Milwaukee's Ted Olla in a 10-rounder at Brooklyn's Eastern Parkway last night.

The lanky Dykes, 159, used his long left to keep off Olla, 161, a busy body puncher, although he tired down the stretch.

Redlegs Park Tops Majors In Home Runs

NEW YORK (AP)—Crosley Field, home of the Cincinnati Redlegs and a relatively new member of the "shortened foul lines" club, replaced Brooklyn's Ebbets Field in 1954 as the favorite target of major league home run hitters.

A total of 199 homers were hit in Cincinnati. Ebbets Field was the scene of 193 home runs and New York's Polo Grounds 187, figures compiled by The Associated Press disclosed today.

The Brooklyn ball park topped both leagues in 1953 with 192 followed by 190 for the Giants' park. But it was Crosley Field which showed the biggest gain—86 to 185—after the distance from home plate to the right field wall was sliced from 366 to 342 feet.

Actually, the reduced footage in Cincinnati worked against the Redlegs last season. They slammed 94 homers at home and the visiting teams hit 105.

Fenway park, den of the Boston Red Sox, headed the American League in number of home runs with 139 to 137 for Cleveland's Municipal Stadium.

American League batters found Baltimore's Memorial Stadium the toughest. Only 42 homers were walloped there.

Washington's Griffith Stadium relinquished its "least homered in" title with an aggregate of 52. The distance from home plate to left field was cut down almost 20 feet last August and the management has indicated it will make further reductions in 1955.

Pittsburgh's Forbes Field slumped in number of home runs from 141 in '53 to 64 last season with the removal of "Greenberg Gardens" responsible for much of the decrease. The "Gardens" demise moved back the left field barrier from 335 to 365 feet.

Second baseman Bobby Avila figured in the scoring of 164 runs for Cleveland. During the World Series he failed to drive in a run and scored only once.

Writer Doubts Ray Robinson To Fight Again

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—Sugar Ray Robinson, who retired as middleweight champion nearly two years ago to launch a new career as a tap dancer, has announced that he will gradually begin training today with a view to taking up his old trade again. Says that, despite all his real estate holdings in Harlem, he finds himself short of spending money.

If it were anybody except the 34-year-old Sugar Ray talking, this would be the most exciting pugilistic news of the week. A match between him and the current 160-pound king, Bobo Olson, still would draw well into six figures. But it was never possible to know whether this great ring artist was talking straight or just talking, and it isn't now.

Up to within a few days of his retirement, Robinson continued to insist that he intended to defend his title against Randy Turpin of England. And all the time he was rehearsing diligently for his stage debut. The promoting IBC, therefore, is eyeing the present "come back" very warily lest it find itself suckered into giving Ray some needed publicity for his stage efforts.

The feeling here was that something broke in Robinson that terribly hot night two summers ago when Joey Maxim, the then light heavyweight champion, beat him into a babbling wreck. We felt then that he would not enter the ring again, that he had taken the only bad beating he intended ever to take. It still goes.

Another former fighter turned thespian, Lou Nova, has been in our midst lately between night club engagements, and he's still as full of ideas he was a dozen years ago when he was inventing his famous "cosmic" punch. Lou's latest obsession is that boxers should do all their prefight training after dark.

"They fight after dark, don't they?" demanded the former heavyweight contender. "So what do they do? They spend a month or more boxing every afternoon at 3 o'clock and then hitting the hay at 10 o'clock every night. When they finally get into the ring for the fight itself they're practically walking in their sleep."

Wednesday Bowling League To Be Formed

League To Settle Control Of A's

Johnson's Offer May Be Accepted Today

By JOE MOOSHIL

CHICAGO (AP)—Who will gain control of the Philadelphia Athletics and where will they play in 1955 were the big questions American League club owners hope to decide at a meeting today.

That the debt-ridden Macks will lose control of the franchise which has been in their family for 54 years appeared a virtual certainty unless some "angel" pops up with needed cash.

At a league meeting in New York two weeks ago, Roy Mack was given 14 days to raise $750,000 to buy control of the team from his father Connie and brother Earle.

Roy, fighting grimly to keep the A's in Philadelphia, hasn't come up with the money.

Arnold Johnson, Chicago business executive, seems to be top man with his $3,375,000 offer to buy the team and move the franchise to Kansas City. Connie Mack and Earle are in favor of selling to Johnson but Roy has opposed.

Millionaire building contractor John McShain, believed to be Roy's best hope to get the money, said in Philadelphia he has lost interest in backing Roy financially.

Two other offers besides Johnson's have reportedly been made but American League President Will Harridge said yesterday "the only bona fide offer we know about thus far for the Athletics has been made by Johnson."

However, Tommy Richardson, president of the Eastern League and one of the Athletics' directors maintains he has $3,375,000 in cash to match Johnson's offer.

Richardson said he'll be in Chicago to ask for the right to buy the franchise.

Another offer was made in Washington, D.C., yesterday.

Leo de Orsey, prominent attorney, and Joe Tucci, retired plumber, said they want to buy the team and keep it in Philadelphia.

De Orsey and Tucci said they have made an offer of $2,856,000 which will be submitted at today's meeting by Calvin Griffith, executive director of the Washington Senators.

Hawkeyes' Defense To Be Tough On OSU

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—An Ohio State Buckeye scout who looked over Iowa came home to describe the Hawkeyes' defensive line as terrific and their pass defense as good. Ohio State meets Iowa here Saturday.

Gene Fekete, aide to Buckeye Coach Woody Hayes, said: "I'd feel better about Saturday's game if Iowa had beaten Michigan and was coming here with three straight. The Hawkeyes will be higher than a kite for this one. I look for a rough, tough game, and I expect it to be close."

Iowa lost 14-13 to Michigan last Saturday while Ohio made it three straight wins by defeating Illinois 40-7.

"We lost 8-0 to Iowa two years ago in a game we were supposed to win, and that Iowa team can't compare with this one," Fekete said.

Hayes said Ohio lost "probably the best center in the Big Ten when Ken Vargo broke his arm in the Illinois game."

Hayes said "success depends on the fundamentals of tackling and blocking" and put his Buckeyes through a two-hour sweat suit workout yesterday.

Top Five Ohio Grid Teams Due For Weekend Shakeup

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio high school football poll is due for a shakeup this weekend as four of the five top teams play each other.

Alliance's front-running Aviators still shuddering in first place after last week's 21-20 win over Barberton's Magics in which they had to come from 13 points behind to get the nod, take on Cleveland St. Joseph.

The Cleveland club has won three of its four starts, but the Aviators are favored due to their versatile air-ground attack, plus a stinging desire to stay at the top of the scholastic pack.

The next quartet in the standings, Mansfield, Springfield, Massillon and Canton McKinley, will furnish the big fireworks.

Mansfield, fresh from a resounding 42-7 win over Warren, enters Massillon's six-time state champions, dumped two weeks ago by Alliance. Mansfield boasts a 4-0 record and a 154-38 scoring mark against Massillon's 3-1 and 150-19. The champs beat Steubenville 28-0 Friday.

Springfield, boasting four in a row topped by Friday's 14-0 win over Middletown, invades Canton McKinley's Bulldog stronghold in a battle for prestige. The Wildcats have outscored the foe 95-14, while McKinley—a loser to Warren in an early upset—has a 134-21 advantage. McKinley tuned up for the clash by swamping Canton Lincoln 33-7 last week.

From here and there: Fullback Walt Roeckers of Cincinnati Roger Bacon was last week's scoring star with 5 touchdowns and 2 extra points in the 50-13 win over Newport (Ky.) Catholic... with QB Mike McMahon hitting him with 44, 52 and 62 yard scoring passes, plus a 58-yarder to Frank Weyer.

Dave Turner of Toledo Whitmer scored all four touchdowns in a 25-20 upset over Lima Central, the latter's first loss, and Ronnie Rahe of Toledo Clay also went for four in beating Maumee 40-13.

Homer Floyd of Massillon scored three TD's against Steubenville, getting two on runs of 85 and 30 yards within 30 seconds of playing time, and stomping 75 for the other. He has 54 points for four games.

Youngstown Rayen halfback Dick Horvath had three TD's for the second straight week as Youngstown Chaney fell 32-6. Rayen has limited four losers to two touchdowns. Struthers, generally a power, hasn't scored in four starts.

There was fast action in Zanesville's 20-14 win over Dover. With Dover leading 7-0, Zanesville's Donie Toler went 36 yards to score, and Stan Slack's conversion tied it. Slack kicked off, and Dover's Bud Mears ran back 76 yards for a touchdown. Weinsz converted, then kicked off, and Zanesville's Doug Palmer raced it back 88 yards for a TD. Three touchdowns in a matter of seconds of playing time, with two kick-off returns back-to-back. Mears of Dover has 9 TD's and 2 extra points, and has carried 74 times for 482 yards. The boys say he may be the state's best back.

New Philadelphia's 14-game winning streak was halted 14-13 by Martins Ferry. Middletown and Springfield played two scoreless quarters, then Willie White of the Wildcats went 88 yards with a punt return to ice it. Portsmouth's streak halted a week ago by Springfield, lost again last week to Cincinnati Elder, 28-0, for their second straight white-washing.

Fostoria, which defeated Fremont Ross 6-0 a week ago, was smothered 34-0 by Marion Harding and wound up with a minus 27 yards. Marion, with four straight, has outscored the opposition 89-14. Against Fostoria, center Bob Caldwell had his first try conversions and made 4 of 5.

Fremont rebounded from the Fostoria loss to wallop Findlay 39-0, giving Ross 74 wins in its last 84 games. Only northwestern Ohio teams to beat Fremont over that span were Fostoria, Findlay, Sandusky and Toledo Scott.

Canton Timken and Salem were tied Saturday night at 7-7 with two minutes to go. Timken center John Wyler tried a field goal from 17 yards and missed, but Salem was off-side. The referee moved the ball

Oklahoma Tightens Grip On First Place In Poll; Wisconsin, Ohio Jump

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.

By The Associated Press

Oklahoma's one-touchdown victory over Texas last Saturday released a landslide of votes today that swept Bud Wilkinson's Sooners far in front in the weekly Associated Press rankings of college football teams.

Out of a total of 201 sports writers and broadcasters, no fewer than 118 picked Oklahoma first. And not one failed to put the Sooners somewhere in the first 10.

As a result, Oklahoma collected 1,797 points on the usual basis of 10 for a first-place ballot, 9 for second, etc. A week ago, when they to the 12, and Johnny made the second try for a 10-7 win.

Carrollton, which gave Coach Tom Harp to Massillon, is still doing all right. The Warriors defeated Jefferson Union 14-0 Friday night, and have yet to be scored on.

Oddest injury of the year: Terry Lash of Ashland suffered a shoulder separation while doing pre-game calisthenics.

How They Voted

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Here's how 25 sports editors rate Ohio's high school football teams this week. Shown are the poll points on a 10-9-8-etc basis, and the won-loss records of the leaders:

Teams	Won	Lost
Alliance (2/5)	4	0
Mansfield (18/9)	4	0
Springfield (13/7)	4	0
Massillon (13/3)	3	1
Canton McKinley (10/1)	3	1
Barberton (4/7)	3	1
Jackson (4/6)	3	1
Cincinnati Elder (3/4)	4	0
Youngstown Rayen (3/1)	4	0
Canton Lehman (3/0)	4	0

Important Softball Meeting Is Tonight

An important Salem Softball Association meeting will be held tonight in the Memorial Building at 7:30, Ward Zeller, recreation director, reminds softball managers, coaches, sponsors and players.

Zeller hopes to have at least three representatives from each team present to vote on a proposed constitution for the league.

Trophies will be presented to batting and team champions tonight.

WINS PRELIMINARY BOUT

BROOKLYN (AP)—Bob Graves of Kingsport, Tenn., last night defeated Howie Tate of Canton, Ohio, in four rounds of a preliminary bout at Eastern Parkway Arena. Graves weighed 217½, Tate 217.

had won only two games, the Sooners polled 77 firsts and 1,369 points.

Wisconsin, a 13-7 winner over Rice in a nationally televised struggle between nationally ranked teams, moved into second place in the rankings ahead of UCLA, which barely pulled out a 21-20 decision over Washington. And Ohio State, a convincing 40-7 winner over Illinois, climbed all the way from 10th place to fourth on the strength of that victory.

After these four, all of which received more than 1,000 points in the balloting, came Purdue, Duke, Mississippi, Notre Dame and then Penn State and Navy tied for 10th. This tie and the fact that Mississippi edged out Notre Dame for seventh by a single point, 730 to 729, brings out the closeness and the uncertainty of the rankings after the few leaders.

Iowa and Southern California, two of the upset victims, lost their places in the first 10. Iowa garnered only enough points for 13th place after its 14-13 loss to Michigan, while USC, upset 20-7 by Texas Christian, didn't even appear in the first 20.

The leaders (first-place votes in parentheses):

Minister Says Ike Gives Religion Boost In U. S.

BOSTON (AP)—The Rev. Dr. Edward L. R. Elson, minister of the National Presbyterian Church, at which President Eisenhower worshiped, says the "spiritual development of these times is symbolized by the President."

Speaking last night before an armed forces chaplains conference, he said:

"His inaugural prayer, his church membership, his opening of Cabinet meetings with prayer, his habit of private prayer, all have invested religion in this country with fresh masculinity."

Potter Elected President Of Scout Council

Robert Potter, vice president of E. W. Bliss Company, was elected to a second term as president of the Northern District, Columbiana County of Boy Scouts of America at the annual meeting Monday night at the Jerusalem Lutheran Church of Columbiana.

Ralph Martin of Salem was named vice president, and Wesley Hougher of Salem, district commissioner. Attorney Francis Lang of East Liverpool, council president, traced the growth of the area Boy Scout movement and announced future plans. Committee reports were given by Edmund Shuster, camping; Bryce Kendall, advancement; Dr. M. M. Sandrock, safety; Alfred L. Fitch, leadership training; Gene Young, finance; Melvin York, public relations; William Hailey, organization and extension and Hougher, commissioner's report.

Other guests were Emory Miller of East Palestine, council vice president, and A. V. Smith and D. W. Bailey of Columbiana, both members of the executive board. Dinner was served to 33 by mothers of explorer crew of Troop 18 of Columbiana.

Rhodes also referred to the 1954 liquor investigation which he described as a "half million dollar shakedown" by liquor department agents of permit holders.

In 1947, Rhodes said, 27 permits were issued in 11 days and 33 "in the closing minutes" of Lausche's first term. The governor was quoted then as saying he had been "betrayed."

A Franklin County grand jury recently called for removal or resignation of liquor Director Anthony A. Rutkowski of Cleveland following a probe of the department. Other grand juries have returned indictments against former liquor agents in Cuyahoga, Lucas and Hamilton counties.

sued what it said was a tape-recorded transcript of the conference.

The transcript quoted Wilson as saying a group of people had approached him in Washington "a little over a year ago" asking for defense contracts for their district which had been classified as a labor distress area.

"One of them made the complaint, 'You know you've just reduced the draft. In our district there are 110 more young men that won't have to go to the Korean front now and that'll add to our unemployment,'" Wilson said.

"And the idea that a 19-year-old boy could be drafted and sent to Korea to be shot at and he didn't have enough gumption to go 100 miles and get himself a job—I don't go for that," he added.

"And I've got a lot of sympathy for people where a sudden change catches 'em—but I've always liked bird dogs better than kennel-fed dogs. You know, one who'll get out and hunt for food rather than sit on his fanny and yelp," the transcript quoted Wilson.

Wilson was in Detroit to speak at a $100-a-plate Republican banquet last night. He had no comment on Reuther's telegram.

Spokesmen at the Summer White House in Denver said President Eisenhower would have no comment on Reuther's demand until the telegram had been received.

Rural Health Group Backs Polio Fight

Action by Columbiana County health and school officials to try to halt the spread of polio was given the stamp of approval by the executive committee of the County Rural Health and Safety Council Monday at Lisbon.

The committee went on record, "to support the board of health, superintendent of schools and the United Local School board in their action to stem the polio outbreak; that is, the closing of United Local School and exclusion of High School students from the New Garden area from classes.

Mrs. Curney Converse of RD Leetonia, president, said plans for the Oct. 27 quarterly meeting at Lisbon on mental health were completed.

About 12 members of the council will attend the district rural health conference on mental hygiene at Kent State University Friday.

hall after the evening meal. When one of the men shouted "Let 'er go," cups and plates began flying.

Tear Gas Used
Tear gas was used as the men were herded from the mess hall to the hallways of their cell blocks. Many of them ran there on their own accord.

The three guards now held hostage were on duty in the cell blocks. A fourth guard, Leonard Skurda, 38, hid in an upper tier of the cells and was later permitted to leave the cell block unharmed.

The prisoners based their complaints to the warden on the food served and what they described as inadequate toilet facilities, a lack of recreation, and insufficient dental and medical care.

The warden said more space is being readied for recreation facilities and that medical and dental care is not lacking. He said "the great need of the penitentiary is for more pay for the prison staff so we can get men who will stay with more security."

Gov. Anderson said, "In my opinion, the cause of this riot was the agitation in newspapers and over the radio to charges made by the Democratic candidate for attorney general, Fred Nichol of Mitchell."

Nichol had charged the prisoners were mistreated.

A prisoner spokesman said the Nichol charges were not involved in the riot, but that the prisoners just wanted better conditions.

Nichol said it was likely the riot was caused "by the deplorable conditions that exist and have not been corrected although the governor has known about them for longer than a year."

the peninsula. The area is thinly populated.

Winds of 115 m. p. h. covered only a small area near the center of the hurricane but gales reached outward 125 miles in all directions from the eye.

Hazel now is 675 miles southeast of Miami. The Weather Bureau said there is only a slim chance it will curve toward the mainland but the possibility has not been ruled out.

After Cuba, the next land areas in the path of the hurricane, if it continues its present course, will be the southeastern Bahama Islands.

Forecasters believe the mountain ranges of southwest Haiti may have disrupted the circulation of the hurricane to some extent but it is expected to reform and regain its power over the waters of the Windward Passage. The Cuban mountains also will interfere with the whirling movement of the storm.

Massive seas were churned up by the hurricane and ships at sea turned out of its path.

The Navy's hurricane hunter pilots circled the storm but because of the extreme turbulence no effort was made to shove their planes into the eye.

Hazel developed a week ago near the island of Grenada, skirted the northern coast of Venezuela on a westward course, then swerved suddenly to the north to move on Haiti and Cuba.
